GERMANS CRUSHING DEFENSE OF VERDUN

Dead Man Hill Evacuated and Hill 304 Held Jointly at a Cost of Fully 30,000 Lives
TEUTONS DENY EVER LOST DOUAUMONT
Crown Prince Forces Make Gain Along a Front of Three Miles in Greatest Struggle

TRAGIC SCENES IN VERDUN BATTLE

Every man in a French force penetrating Fort Douaumont killed. Soldiers fighting in dark underground tunnels, using hand searchlights, knives and bombs.
Hundreds of French and German buried alive in the wreckage of entrenchment works.
Scores of men driven insane.
Surgeons, operating without anesthetics, report the wounded continuing their struggle with knives, although unable to stand.
A French captain reported 7000 dead heaped along a 700-yard front.

BERLIN, May 25.—By the most desperate fighting in all history, the main German pincer, is closing in on Verdun today. The right jaw has advanced on a front of three miles during the past seventy-two hours.
After sacrificing more than one entire corps in an effort to retain the Dead Man Hill position, northwest of Verdun, the French evacuated the whole stronghold.
Hill 304, cornerstone of the French defense west of the Meuse, is held jointly by French and Germans. Further slight advances by the Germans in ravines on either side will force its surrender to the right wing of the German army. The left jaw of the Teuton machine has entirely reconquered positions temporarily surrendered to French troops.
It is estimated 30,000 men died fighting in the dark, underground caverns about the ruins of Douaumont for seventy-two hours, with no resultant change in the battle line.
Positive denial is made of French claims that General Nivelle's forces even temporarily occupied the ruins of Fort Douaumont. The only French detachment that entered the fort was completely wiped out, declared the Berlin war office.
On the southern and western approaches to the fort the earth is covered with countless corpses and many wounded, crawling feebly about hunting shelter and aid.
Since the French attacked last Sunday there has been no lull in the savage struggle and neither side has been able to reach its wounded.
West of the Meuse, French troops are being steadily driven back upon the Verdun forte. The German center which took Dead Man Hill, has not yet occupied all abandoned works because French artillery is still playing on its southern ridges.

Paris, May 25.—French troops advanced during the night along the Meuse west bank east of Cumieres village, fighting with hand grenades, it was officially announced today. The Germans are strongly attacking. They took a French trench north of Haudromont quarries on the east side of the river. Violent artillery fighting continued all night, but there was no important infantry struggles, either around Douaumont or the Dead Man Hill fort.
The French line was made in a small wood between the river and Cumieres. The positions won would be exposed to a German flanking attack if French forces attempted to push on southward to Cumieres. Southern exits to Cumieres are under French artillery fire, so there is no fear of an assault from that quarter.
General Nivelle made no attempt to seize Fort Douaumont last night. Through complete exhaustion of the infantrymen, operations on both sides have temporarily halted.

ITALIAN STATEMENT
ROME, May 25.—The following official communication was issued today:
"In the Lagarina Valley yesterday the whole of our front, on both sides of the Adige river, was subjected to a furious bombardment in enemy columns which was attempting to advance in small bodies from Lizzana toward Marco was stopped by our artillery fire. During the evening an attack along the Val d'Assa in the direction of Monte di Nezzo was held off by us."
Between the Terragnola Valley and Astico there was the customary bombardment. The evacuation of the upper basin of the Poyn and the Astico has now been effected in perfect order. Our troops are strengthening their positions on a protective line of the Astico basin. We destroyed our

WAITE ON STAND IN OWN DEFENSE IN MURDER CASE

Insanity Is Basis for Dentist's Fight to Escape Electric Chair.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Dr. Arthur Waite was called to the witness stand in his own defense late today in his trial for the murder of his father-in-law, John B. Peck, a wealthy drug manufacturer of Grand Rapids, Mich.
Dark hints concerning the "man from Egypt" were thrown out by Waite's attorneys when the court battle was renewed. It was apparent the defense would seek to prove that this slender shadow, signant of Waite's disordered intellect, was the real slayer.
If Waite is convicted it will be because of the testimony of three women, wife, sweetheart and friend, court observers believe. All three gave strong testimony against him.
After his wife had presented her evidence, Mrs. Margaret Weaver Horton, the woman with whom Waite rented a "studio suite" for the study of music and languages, was called. She said Waite told her he was doing research work for Dr. Muller. Also, said Mrs. Horton, Waite manifested peculiar traits, sometimes bursting into tears when she played or sang and often asserting that all men were children. She asserted that her relationship with Waite was purely platonic.
Between the Astico and Brenta rivers the enemy yesterday commenced a strong pressure against our positions east of the Val d'Assa. In the Sugana Valley the retirement of our troops on their principal line, which commenced on the 22d, continued slowly and orderly.
"In Carina there has been a violent artillery duel in the upper part. Along the remainder of the front there is nothing important to report. Enemy aviators threw bombs on the station Della Carina, causing some casualties and material damage."

AUTOS COLLIDE HEAD-ON; SIX PERSONS HURT

Patient Being Conveyed by Physician Injured in Impact.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—A head-on collision between a heavy touring car and a roadster at Polk and Hayes streets this afternoon caused the injury of six persons and completely wrecked both machines. All those hurt received cuts and bruises of the head, face and body.
The injured are:
DR. R. B. BERING, proprietor of Bering's sanitarium, 300 Page street.
DANIEL LUCEY, attendant at Bering's sanitarium.

HOWARD BERRY, chauffeur, 1031 Greenview street.
C. I. BAXTER, druggist, 569 Golden Gate avenue.
Dr. Bering was conveying a patient to his sanitarium in Berry's machine when the accident occurred. Together with Lucey he was riding in the touring car. The car was badly damaged and the patient was injured. The car collided with Baxter's roadster. The impact of the two machines sent all of the occupants into the street.
Berry and Roberts were cut by glass by the wind shield. The former also receiving an injury to his abdomen from contact with the wheel. Baxter was badly bruised and Dr. Bering suffered severe strains and lacerations. Howard's scalp was laid open and his face cut. All were taken to the Central Emergency hospital.

PEACE IDEAS OF PRESIDENT SUGGESTED

Wilson Indicates That He Will Not Act Until Change Comes
A Mutual Understanding by Belligerents Necessary to Success

WASHINGTON, May 25.—President Wilson told callers today that the intervention of a neutral in behalf of peace in Europe could rest only on a mutual understanding by the belligerents that terms to be arranged are to conserve the interests of all and of the world at large, rather than those of a particular nation or group of nations among the warring powers.
President Wilson did not disclose any definite plan of action he may have formulated in regard to peace, nor authorize a formal statement of his attitude. His callers gained an impression, however, that the President would entertain suggestions that he extend his good offices to the belligerents to bring about peace only when the conditions he outlined were likely of fulfillment.
President Wilson pointed out to his callers that there are many elements in the situation, all of which must be taken into account in consideration of peace proposals. While he is eager to see the conflict ended as soon as possible the White House visitors were able to gather no impression that a move by the United States to bring it about is in immediate prospect.
Representative Hensley of Missouri discussed with the President the amendment to the naval bill adopted by the naval committee, authorizing the President to invite other nations to participate in a conference at the close of the war with the object of settling international disputes. Hensley told the President that he believed this amendment made the naval bill an assurance to foreign nations that the United States was arming for defense only, not for any offensive purpose and was ready to enter into a mutual understanding with the belligerents to bring about peace only when the conditions he outlined were likely of fulfillment.

City Health Board to Fight One Rat

Rat traps, poisons and every other expedient known to the Board of Health is to be employed in an effort to catch one rat in the home of A. Charles, 1124 London street. On this may depend the life of five-year-old Florence Carylo, who was bitten by the animal this morning as she lay in bed. The search for the rat is being made to ascertain whether or not it is rabid and if so, the child will be rushed to Pasteur treatment.
The little girl was asleep in bed this morning when she was suddenly awakened by a sharp pain. Her arm was bleeding and she declared that she saw a large rat scurrying to hiding beneath a table. Her screams brought others in the house. The rat in the meantime had escaped in a hole in the wainscoting. The child was taken to the Emergency Hospital by Robert Gray, a Frank, who at once laid the case before the Board of Health.

Chinese Governor and Troops in Rebellion

SHANGHAI, May 25.—General Chen Yi, governor of the province of Szechuen, on Monday last officially proclaimed the independence of the Sze Chuen at Chengtu.
A despatch from Shanghai, May 7, said advice had been received there to the effect that Chengtu, capital of Szechuen, had assumed its independence without a formal declaration to that effect. The despatch added that Governor Chen Yi had five divisions of troops, while the northern general, Tsao Kun, at Chungking, 175 miles southwest of Chengtu, had three divisions. It was considered that a conflict between the two opposing forces was possible.

British Steamship Submarine Victim

LONDON, May 25.—Attacked by a submarine, the British steamer Washington has been destroyed, it was announced today. The Washington is the largest U-boat victim for several weeks. It was of 5000 tons, built in 1907.

TEXAN IN FRANCE

PARIS, May 25.—Batting in the clouds two miles above the Tauton trenches, Bert Hall of Texas, an American in the French foreign legion's flying squad, today destroyed a German war aeroplane and sent it crashing to earth. This was announced by the war office.

CITY CLERK F. M. SMITH

SCHOOL BUDGET FACES SLASH BY SUPERVISORS

Oakland Board Before County Body Hears Promise of Cuts.

That the school budget, which called for an Oakland school district tax rate of 59.7-10 cents must be cut to a 50 cent levy, was declared this morning by the Board of Supervisors, at a heated session at which members of the Board of Education protested that they could make no repairs or improvements on the levy, that all repairs must stand still for another year, and that hundreds of thousands of dollars will thus be lost in depreciation. The supervisors held that the state law forbids the calling of a greater levy, holding that opinions of Attorney General U. S. Webb and District Attorney W. H. L. Lyles have so directed.

CUMMINGS DISMISSED, CERTIFIES TO RECALL

After His Decision That Petitions Are Valid, City Clerk Is Ousted by Council Majority

STORMY SCENES ARE ENACTED AT SESSION
F. M. Smith Is Named as Successor; Petersen Shuts Off Booing and Jeering of Big Crowd

TODAY'S DEVELOPMENTS IN RECALL FIGHT
City Clerk L. W. Cummings certified to the city council that the recall petition against Commissioner Jackson was sufficient, making the calling of an election mandatory.
Commissioner Jackson introduced resolutions dismissing Cummings and naming Frank M. Smith, former city clerk, as his successor. These resolutions were passed by Commissioners Anderson, Bacous and Jackson.
Cummings announced that the petition had 350 signatures over the 3475 necessary for a recall election.
Commissioner Jackson announced that Cummings had been discharged because he refused to count 467 of the 1843 withdrawals filed by his adherents with the city clerk.
Commissioner Jackson has five days in which to resign. In case he refuses to do so, the council must set the date for the recall election not less than fifty days nor more than sixty after the filing of the petition.
Commissioner Anderson gave out a statement that Attorney H. C. McKie of the Taxpayers' League had approached him with a request that he give his vote to firing Cummings. Anderson intimated that the Taxpayers' League had threatened Cummings with dismissal if he failed to certify to the sufficiency of the petition.

CUMMINGS OUT OF CITY CLERK JOB

to the sufficiency of the supplementary petition as follows:

Number filed on supplementary petition, 3844. From this number Cummings subtracted certificates rejected for irregularities, and withdrawals filed by Jackson forces to the number of 172, leaving 2112 on the supplementary petition. Add 2112 to 4709, the good signatures on the supplementary petitions, and the sum is 6821 for the entire petition, or 346 more than the necessary 6475.

Dr. Jackson claims that the petition is invalid and gives his figures as follows:

Withdrawals still uncounted when the extra clerks stopped work last night, 221.

Withdrawals filed today, 230, making a total of 451 uncounted withdrawals of signatures. This would apparently bring the petition on the city clerk's own figures 111 below the necessary 6475.

DISPUTED FIGURES.

Cummings, however, contends that Dr. Jackson's figures are wrong.

"There were only 60 uncounted withdrawals last night," said Cummings. "This 200-odd withdrawals of which the doctor speaks is a set of withdrawals which the clerks have gone over as many as five times in an attempt to verify them by the great register. They could not be verified, and every effort by the extra clerks made by Dr. Jackson himself to verify them met with failure. It is not just to say I did not count them."

"I gave Dr. Jackson an absolutely fair deal in this," Cummings said. "Commissioners Anderson and Baucus named the verification clerks for his recall, and they saw that Dr. Jackson was protected in every way. We gave only about half the trouble to trying to find the names on the great register of those on the recall petition, to the trouble that was spent searching the names of those who withdrew their names."

EXPECTED DISMISSAL.

"I expected that this dismissal would follow. But I did not consult with Mayor Davis or members of the Taxpayers' League. I have given my honest opinion on this matter."

"Cummings was removed from office," said Commissioner Jackson, "because the citizens of Oakland had filed hundreds of withdrawals in his office which he refused to verify or count. In the face of this strong showing that the people were against his recall, and contrary to his public duty, he has attempted to place an expense of $4000 on the taxpayers through the calling of an election for which no sufficient number of taxpayers have petitioned."

"This dismissal of City Clerk Cummings is just what you might expect from Dr. Jackson and his friends," said Mayor Davis. "It is an act of sheer revenge, without a shadow of an excuse. Cummings gave an honest count on the recall petition, and Dr. Jackson could not stand for that. These fellows never take a step without doing themselves an injury. This act of revenge will tell against them, and help to crucify them."

MAYOR INDIGNANT.

"The whole withdrawal matter has been one of the most contemptible spectacles ever seen in any city. City employees in city automobiles have been running about day and night intimidating and coercing and misrepresenting to force decent taxpayers and voters to take their names off the recall. There's M. K. Miller has been earning this kind of politics, and drawing down $300 a month from the city for it."

"Dr. Jackson had better not take this matter into the courts. He will find that a great many of these withdrawals are 'phony.' I'll guarantee that that recall petition would be found 1000 names to the good. If the matter should be taken into the courts."

"Why, you don't have to go behind the sworn statement of Chief of Police Woods before the city council to know that there is too much Jackson around here—Charlie, and George and Frank."

It was intimated today that Dr. Jackson, through his attorney, Charles A. Beardsley, will carry the matter into the courts in an effort to have the uncounted withdrawals verified and to have these tell against the recall petition. Beardsley would not state just what course he intended to pursue.

QUESTIONS ASKED.

At the council session, Commissioner Baucus tried to force Cummings to admit that the certificate of sufficiency of the recall petition had not been written in his office, but had been prepared for him by some outside agency. Cummings maintained that it had been written in his office, but refused to disclose which of the stenographers had typed it. Mayor Davis ruled that he did not have to answer this question.

Commissioner Edwards tried to block the dismissal of Cummings and the appointment of Smith by a resolution to lay the matter on the table. This was defeated by Commissioners Anderson, Baucus and Jackson. The two resolutions of dismissal and appointment of Cummings and Smith were then passed, Mayor Davis and Commissioner Edwards vociferating their negative votes loudly and emphatically.

an agreement to settle international disputes amicably.

The President did not commit himself definitely to the amendment, but himself gained the impression that he was favorable to the general principles involved.

PEACE RESOLUTION.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—A resolution requesting the President until incompatible with the public interest to suggest to warring nations of Europe that the United States undertake mediation, was introduced into the Senate late today by Senator Lewis of Illinois to lie on the table for discussion later.

Lloyds Changes Peace Odds

LONDON, May 25.—In consequence of Sir Edward Grey's declaration that there will be no peace until Germany has been defeated, Lloyds war odds became more shifty. Lloyds has been offering even money that the conflict will not end this year.

Today's odds were three to one that the war will not end during 1916, seven to three it will not end before April, 1917, twenty to one it will end before 1918, four to one that Sweden

Voices Hope of Women for Peace

NEW YORK, May 25.—Expressing hope that women of the United States through the National Federation of Women's Clubs will have a part in bringing peace to the world, Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker, president of the organization, delivered the opening address at its convention here today.

Improvement of rural life, the Americanization of the immigrant, the cultivation of a real Pan-American spirit and moving pictures were the main topics for consideration at the first session.

Clubwomen were warned not to support any legislation which did not have the federation's recommendation. Fifteen thousand delegates were on hand when the gavel was pounded, calling for order.

Mrs. George Bass of Chicago has entered the presidency race, making it a three-cornered affair. Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles of Los Angeles, candidate of the western delegates, appears to be gaining ground.

"While we call ourselves the General Federation of Women's Clubs, yet we may as well face the fact that our foreign clubs are so few and far between that we are really only national," Mrs. Pennybacker said. "On the continent of Europe and in other countries there is known of the Federation because there the great woman's movement is represented by the National Councils of Women all united in the International Council of Women."

WAY TO REPRESENTATION.

"Now there is only one way in which the Federation can be represented in this International Council and that is by joining the already long-established National Council of Women in the United States."

"I will confess that there is a deeper reason that makes me so eager to see this brought to pass. When the cruel war is over and peace comes we shall find in the International Council an organization that is ready-ready for harmonizing the nations which are now at war—ready for calling back into many common counsel women who for so many years were accustomed to work side by side."

RECOMMENDATIONS.

Mrs. Pennybacker made other recommendations of importance to the future of the Federation. One of these urged that the organization "on record as favoring a continuance of effort on the lines of improvement of rural life and the Americanization of the immigrant."

In this connection the president explained that her administration, having "early felt the need of proper alliance with the government," had established a system of cooperation with the Departments of Agriculture, Interior and Labor.

"Every club which is willing to aid the government in Americanizing the immigrant," Mrs. Pennybacker urged, "is invited to send the name of its president and secretary to the president of the Federation. These names will be filed with the Commissioner of Immigration. When a foreign family lands, if there is a town in which a woman's club exists, if the commissioner finds on his list that this club has signified its willingness to co-operate, a letter will immediately be sent to the president of the club. It is not money that these people want, but it is the touch of human sympathy, the politics of the situation by the statement of Commissioner Anderson that Attorney H. C. McPike had approached him to obtain his vote for the dismissal of Cummings."

"McPike," who is attorney for the Taxpayers' League, wanted to know if it would vote against Cummings. He said he had enough votes with mine, and that the resolution would be submitted by some other commissioner.

"The meaning of this seems to be that they are threatening Cummings with dismissal if he did not find in favor of a recall."

will not join Germany within six months, two to one that Germany and America will not be at war this month.

The German-American odds reflect the English feeling that a submarine attack on a passenger liner with loss of life would upset President Wilson's settlement and precipitate war.

Grey's speech was generally applauded by newspaper men. A London opinion is that he has killed all German hopes of making peace terms if the Kaiser desires an early end to the war.

No Time to Talk Peace, Says Grey

LONDON, May 25.—In an impromptu speech in the House of Commons last night on the question of peace and the propriety of "emphatically" stating American policy as a platform, subjects unexpectedly raised by Arthur Ponsonby, Liberal member for Stirling, Scotland, in a strong address attacking the government for allowing diplomatic etiquette to stand in the way of possible peace parleys, Sir Edward Grey, the British Foreign Secretary, said all ideas that peace negotiations were possible at the present stage and plainly reiterated that the position of the allies in no way was changed.

Sir Edward declared that it was impossible to consider terms of peace without a previous agreement between the belligerents. Further he expressed the decided opinion that the hostilities had not yet reached a stage where it was possible to talk of peace, especially as the German public was constantly being "fed with lies" by their ministers. Then, too, France only had the right to call a halt, he said.

Ponsonby's reference to the use of the American press "as a platform" was the outgrowth of a recent interview with Sir Edward Grey.

Sir Edward, in replying to this attack, while admitting that important disclosures of policy ought first to be made to Parliament, argued that a crisis might arise during the war when considerations of etiquette should not be allowed to stand in the way. He contended that since German statesmen constantly were giving interviews and statements to the American press, it would be more pedantic which would hinder British statesmen from countering these statements in the interests of their own country.

Germany Willing to Consider Tender

BERLIN, May 25.—A wireless despatch from the United States giving the substance of President Wilson's speech at Charlotte, N. C., in which he referred to the possibility of American mediation in the war, is given the place of honor in the morning papers. The afternoon editions return to the subject and their comments, together with the wide interest shown by the German public, show how important this news is regarded here.

Though officially stated nowhere, there is little doubt that Germany is willing to consider a tender of good offices to inaugurate peace negotiations. The former attitude in the highest quarters that America had disqualified herself as a peace mediator on account of her shipments of munitions to the allies has now changed. If President Wilson can hold out any tangible possibilities that peace may result through his mediation, Germany will undoubtedly be willing to consider such suggestions as he may offer.

assurance that there is a place for them in the community, that women know us well how to give."

These alliances with the government branches, Mrs. Pennybacker declared, "strengthen us, place us in the dignified position where we belong, and aid us in doing efficient scientific work; each step thus taken helps our government, and if we are sane in our action, each cooperative step helps the whole cause of womanhood."

Another recommendation made by the president favored action by the Federation by urging upon the clubs "the study of the life and history of Latin-American peoples" and that the incoming board suggest definite plans for the development of Pan-American relations. Recalling that the Federation was, by invitation from the secretary of state, represented at the Pan-American Congress in Washington, Mrs. Pennybacker said:

NEW PROBLEM.

"Careful study convinces us that ideal relationships between the United States and the other American republics will never be brought about until the women of the countries more thoroughly understand each other. Knowledge brings understanding, and understanding brings sympathy."

The motion picture was considered in another recommendation, the president urging the congress to request the incoming board to make a survey of the problem and outline a plan of action.

"No question has aroused more interest among the homes of our land," she said. "We realize that this institution has come to stay; that it can be made a great educational force; that no one is wholly to blame for the state of affairs that now confronts us; but we realize also that the average motion picture tends to degrade rather than to uplift the moral status of the spectator. Remember, please, I say the average picture. We want the cooperation of the film men and we would take no hasty step."

Mrs. Pennybacker voiced a "warning" of certain dangers, which she declared confronted the Federation.

POINTS TO DANGERS.

"First, there is the constant temptation for us to be exploited, to be used for commercial purposes," she said, explaining that pleas for financial aid are constantly being received by individual clubs. She urged that the members "listen to no calls save those sanctioned by state and national federations," and said she believed that the problem needed special attention by the legislative way.

The "second most serious danger," Mrs. Pennybacker described as "the lack of continuity of effort." Many state and individual club officials complain, she said, that certain lines of work mapped out are not carried through. "There is a growing feeling," she continued, "that each biennial convention should outline a certain policy for the two years that are to follow. It is not enough that the incoming administration is not to be given full power to meet the exigencies of the hour, but I do mean that we would interpose ourselves in public esteem and in the affection of the state workers if we could now settle upon one or two great lines of work for the next two years, and if when the new board appoints its chairman it

Weight Measure Is Cause of Seizure

SACRAMENTO, May 25.—The fact that the capacity of California's standard boxes is rated by poundage while the rating in Oregon is by cubic measurement explains why a number of California boxes were confiscated by Oregon weights and measures officials recently.

Deputy W. H. Hendrix of the California weights and measures department stated today.

California and Utah standard berry boxes are the same, Hendricks says, while Oregon and Washington have a different system of rating the standard.

Until the scales of all the coast states get together and decide upon a general standard there will be continual confusion, Hendricks says.

GALLIENI IS WORSE.

PARIS, May 25.—The condition of General Gallieni, former minister of war, has suddenly grown worse and grave anxiety is felt as to his chances of recovery.

General Gallieni resigned as minister of war on March 16 because of ill-health. He underwent a second operation for kidney trouble on May 18 and was then reported to be rapidly recovering.

could ask them in planning work to keep in mind these policies."

Reviewing her administration, Mrs. Pennybacker alluded to herself as an "on-the-wing president," explaining that since July, 1914, her duties have taken her 100,000 miles into every state except Wyoming and into England, Ireland, Cuba and Alaska.

"Some think that so much travel is unnecessary," she said. "This may be true. I have felt, however, that the personal touch was of tremendous value to me; that I needed an opportunity to learn conditions at each state, to come into closer contact with the women themselves, than I have found it possible at council or biennial meetings."

Two British Cruisers Off California Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Two British cruisers are off the California coast near Eureka today, according to the captain of the Norwegian collier from Nainaimo, B. C., he says he sighted the vessels off Point Gorda. They appeared to be proceeding leisurely, evidently waiting to intercept some vessel.

NATIONAL POLITICAL NEWS STATE

ROOSEVELT MEN
ORGANIZE HERE

Richard M. Tobin and Group
Announce Selves for T. R.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Several representative citizens, headed by Richard M. Tobin, former editor of the "Roosevelt Republican League of California." The avowed purpose of the organization is to promote in this state the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt for nomination for the presidency of the United States at the Chicago National Republican Convention. Tobin was named chairman of the organization and the executive force elected includes Victor H. Metcalf of Oakland, George Knight, Louis Sloss, Milton H. Euberg, F. L. Brown, and James Tyson.

The meeting today was held in Tobin's office and headquarters were opened in the Hayes Building, Sixth and Market streets. Tomorrow a line of campaign will be mapped out.

This afternoon the executive board gave out the following statement as to the purposes of the organization:

PURPOSES.

"The purpose of the nation-wide movement of which this league has assumed the leadership in California is to insure the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt at the Republican Convention."

"We believe that the crisis with which we are now confronted is not merely a political one but as Colonel Roosevelt has pointed out, a national one."

"The issue to be decided at the next election is whether this country is to continue in a condition of supine helplessness or whether it is to develop and organize the power to protect its people and its possessions. With the dreadful spectacle of Europe as a warning it is inconceivable that the citizens of the United States should any longer neglect to prepare themselves for defense against aggression. The futility of the efforts to enforce our policies in Mexico must be a matter of grave concern to every thoughtful American."

"We regard this as a most vital period in the nation's history and feel that there is need of a more great force of character and indomitable will at the head of the nation, a man of experience, not only in domestic matters but in all foreign matters as well."

POLITICS.

"Colonel Roosevelt has announced his policies and his views with clarity and force and clearness. It is certain that his administration will be constructive. His appeal to the country is made upon the grounds of the assertion of a vigorous national spirit and the preparation of means to make it good. It is not his thought that the country should embark upon a career of aggressive militarism. He suggests nothing more than that we should place our selves in a position of defense. The six years of his administration is sufficient proof of his desire to preserve peace with honor."

"The committee hopes for an enthusiastic response from the citizens of this state who have always been unserving followers of Colonel Roosevelt and supporters of the policy for which he stands."

"The headquarters of the committee are in Rooms 766 and 768 of the Hewes Building, where it is hoped that all the supporters of the movement will come to inscribe their names upon the roll of the Roosevelt League."

COMMITTEE NAMED FOR CAMPAIGN

Congress to Back Republican
President, Aim of Organization.

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Republican leaders are laying their plans for a vigorous campaign to elect the man who will be nominated at Chicago next month. They are confident that it is only necessary to make clear to the intelligent voters of the country the merits of the administration to insure an overwhelming sentiment in favor of the Republican candidate and that the returns in November will indicate a sweeping Republican victory. Nor will the party leaders confine themselves to insuring the election of the President. All the indications point to the election of a Republican majority in the Senate as well as in the House, if the work of the campaign managers is well done, and for this reason a special committee, charged to look after the interests of Republican candidates for the Senate will be organized. The committee will be organized with a view to spreading the facts through the press of the country in such manner that he who runs may read and that no voter need go to the polls in ignorance of the Democratic record of the Republican party. The tariff, preparedness for national self-defense and economy and efficiency of administration will be the watchwords of the Republican party. In the approaching campaign, which promises to be one of the most momentous in the history of the nation.

INDORSE WILSON.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 25.—Resolutions adopted at the state Democratic convention here last night approved President Wilson's "success in guarding the honor and just interests of America and at the same time keeping the country out of the European war," and his "wise foresight in handling the Mexican situation."

Twelve district delegates, each with half a vote, were selected. The candidacy for the senatorial nomination of A. A. Jones, first assistant secretary of the Interior, also was announced.

Woman to Be Delegate
Mrs. Ormsby Honored

MRS. EDGAR L. ORMSBY.

Named Alternate, Principal
Will Not Serve

Unusual honors are the prospect of Mrs. Edgar L. Ormsby of Oakland, who last week was appointed an alternate to the national Democratic convention in St. Louis by the request of Senator James Phelan.

She will go as a delegate and not as an alternate, since it is quite positive that her principal, Thomas W. Hickey, will not attend, and she will go on the Progressive ticket, as the guest of a Progressive delegate. This makes Mrs. Ormsby one of five California women who will represent the Democratic party at St. Louis and consequently one of a group that is being watched with interest by the public in states where women are still disenfranchised.

TO VISIT OTHERS.

"The first Oakland woman to go on such a mission for the Democrats plans to first attend the Progressive convention in Chicago and the same time to glimpse the Republican gathering and the women's convention of the Congressional Union held there simultaneously. From there she will go on to St. Louis."

Two days before her departure Mrs. Ormsby will address the Women's Democratic Club of Alameda county, of which she was the first president, at their luncheon in the Tip Top Inn. At this time she will speak of her plans. She is leaving for the Progressive in order to attend their convention, as if she had waited for the Democratic special she would be unable to make Chicago in time.

MOOSE TRAIN.

The women's party, with whom she is sympathetic to a certain degree, plans to meet in Chicago first and St. Louis later to induce all three parties to insert a plank favoring suffrage in their platforms. The theater in Chicago, the Blackstone, where they will meet from June 5 to June 7, is to be paid for by Mrs. Phelan. Mrs. Ormsby is decidedly interested in watching the detail of this meeting.

She will go on the Progressive train with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Artelt.

SAY DEFENSE BILL IS INADEQUATE

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Republican members of the House naval affairs committee, in a minority report submitted to the House today, denounced the $241,000,000 naval appropriation bill reported by the majority as wholly inadequate and urged more liberal allowances to make the United States navy second greatest in the world.

The minority charged that the majority report ignored opinions of naval experts and recommendations of Secretary Daniels and was based on a compromise between interests which wanted no additional naval protection and those which wanted only a slight increase.

The Republicans recommended that the bill provided for two dreadnaughts omitted by the reported measure, six battle cruisers instead of fifty coast defense steamers, instead of twenty, $3,500,000 for aircraft instead of $2,000,000, still greater increase in personnel, creation of a national defense council and means for rushing the building program by using more than one shift of workmen daily.

The report suggested that the two dreadnaughts be built according to the plans now ready for the California and Tennessee, so that all might be finished simultaneously. The bill should provide, the report declared, for the full number of men required on a peace basis and should authorize the President to order at his discretion enlistment of such additional men as the navy might need, not to exceed the $3,762 recommended by the general board.

"We have seventy-two submarines built and building," said the minority report. "The lowest estimate of our armaments by any naval authority is 150."

Commenting on the proposal for a defense council it said:

"Experience in modern wars has led all other great nations to establish such a council to insure unity, continuity and co-operation in all branches of national defense."

Kahn Asks Vacation
for Federal Employees

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Representative Kahn sought a ruling from Secretary of War Baker today as to whether federal employees in coast cities could have a thirty-day leave of absence without prejudicing their positions in order to participate in Atlantic military training camps at Monterey and American Lake. The ruling will be made later.

EDWARDS A CANDIDATE.

HIVENS, Mont., May 25.—State Senator John E. Edwards, a Republican of Rosebud county, has filed notice of his intention to become a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Henry L. Myers, whose term expires next March.

ZEITUNG MAKES
T. R. HOT REPLY

Declares That Roosevelt Lied
if He Uttered Address
as Quoted.

CHICAGO, May 25.—The Illinois Staats Zeitung publishes the following in reply to the reference to that paper made by Theodore Roosevelt in his speech at Detroit on May 19:

"The Illinois Staats Zeitung was attacked by Theodore Roosevelt in his speech on May 19, 1916, in Detroit, Mich., as printed in several New York city newspapers. In the following words, one of the great German newspapers, I cannot call it a German-American newspaper—the Illinois Staats Zeitung, has been engaged in active propaganda on behalf of both German militarism and American pacifism. It applauds and advocates Germany's embarkment upon a career of military strength unconditioned by any other consideration and at the same time harks the movement of the extreme pacifists to keep the United States impotent for self-defense."

"That is false! Even at the risk of being condemned to membership in the Roosevelt Annals Club of 1911 we must contradict at honorable ex-president of the United States."

"The Illinois Staats Zeitung never endorsed any policy that tended to 'keep the United States impotent for self-defense.' It is a vile falsehood if the Colonel really said that the Illinois Staats Zeitung backs any movement for that purpose. We print in the American—and today Landis of Chicago is our authority for calling our language the American instead of the English—language, every Sunday the principles of the Illinois Staats Zeitung. One of the planks in that platform of principles is 'the nationalizing of the manufacture of arms and ammunition.'"

SAVE TAXPAYERS.

"Perhaps the Colonel sees in that principle the 'move' to keep our country impotent. We don't. We see in it the move to save our taxpayers millions of graft from the greed of rapacious and dishonest ammunition sellers."

"We have repeatedly stated editorially in both the American and German languages, that we are for preparedness and we explain what sort of preparedness we favor. If the Colonel sees a move to keep our country impotent against defense in every form of preparedness except the Roosevelt brand, then we beg to express our satisfaction at being 'with' some of his opponents rather than 'with' him. We favor the Swiss and Australian system of military service. We favor 'preparedness' in the public schools by means of technical instruction exclusively by American-born citizens upon history and geography, by teaching more of European history and less of English history, by 'preparing' the bodies of our young people through exercises in turning and swimming; by compelling every public school student to learn one European language in addition to the English school course; by an American encyclopedia as our reference work in place of the Encyclopedia Britannica which hardly mentions our 'Declaration of Independence'; by nationalizing the manufacture of arms and ammunition for use of our government; by inculcating stronger love for our government by means of laws that would benefit the poorer rather than the richer classes, so-called socializing laws; by compulsory military service for each physically fit male and compulsory hospital training for each physically fit woman, each for a short period during high school and preparatory school courses; by government subsidy given to universities and colleges that will graduate officers for our army and for our navy under United States regulations and control."

DAKE ROOSEVELT.

"We don't know what a German newspaper printed in the United States looks like. We publish an American newspaper in Chicago. It is printed partly in the German and partly in the American language. We don't know what Mr. Roosevelt means by a 'German' propaganda. We do know that we have no connection with the German government, nor with any foreign government, but that we are independent in finances as well as in politics and therefore dare to answer Mr. Roosevelt's attack in a fearless and truthful manner."

"To be sure we praise the German people for their military preparedness. Without it there would be no Germany today. 'The proof of the pudding is in the eating of it.'"

"But we do not advocate the German military system for the United States at least not now. Were Canada inhibited by double the number of the people in the United States—(Russia possesses twice the population of Germany) and Mexico by two-thirds the population we have (France bears that ratio to Germany) and were both Canada and Mexico 'arming, exercising and training' soldiers and marines in ever increasing proportions, then we would favor a stronger militaristic policy than Canada plus Mexico had adopted."

"If there is any 'moral treason' or any other kind of 'treason' in these doctrines then we are guilty, otherwise not. Roosevelt preaches a kind of preparedness that requires an extraordinary expenditure to keep it from being forgotten by our people for they want naught of a military oligarchy. We modestly preach a sane, moderate, military preparedness and a more thorough educational and physical preparedness."

Committee to Work
on Ship Purchase Bill

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Senate committee on commerce today appointed a sub-committee consisting of Senators Simmons, Fletcher, Bankhead, Jones and Lippitt to hold hearings on the administration ship purchase bill. Hearings will begin at once.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS MEET.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 25.—The Democratic state convention, which met here yesterday, elected eight delegates at large and two delegates and two alternates from each of the eleven congressional districts to the national convention and instructed them to vote for the renomination of President Woodrow Wilson. The convention unanimously approved the action of the President in 'appointing to the Supreme Court bench of the United States America's foremost lawyer and Kentuckian, Louis D. Brandeis of Boston.' The resolution was offered by Senator James.

INDIANA PROGRESSIVES.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 25.—Thirty delegates to the Progressive national convention were selected at meetings in the thirteen Indian congressional districts yesterday. Nearly all of them were in hearty agreement to support Colonel Theodore Roosevelt for the presidential nomination.

REPUBLICANS TO GET BIG SEND OFF

Delegates Crosby and Carlston
to Be Escorted to Special Train.

Republican enthusiasm, inspired by the state-wide victory in the California primary, and now running over the length and breadth of the country as the day of the Chicago convention draws near, will be echoed through the streets of Oakland Friday, June 2, when the two Alameda county delegates-elect to the national convention, Peter J. Crosby and Joseph F. Carlston, are escorted by party enthusiasts to the special train at the Sixteenth street depot and sent on their way to the task of presidential-making.

At last night's meeting of the Republican county central committee it was unanimously decided to meet the Republican delegates special at the party men and women as can be present when the train starts on its way across the country. The de luxe train will be elaborately decorated and some hundred Republicans, including delegates and alternates, will be on board.

Crosby and Carlston will be escorted from their offices in cars decked with floral offerings and the national colors. It is expected that a number of machines will join in the drive to the depot. Details for this send-off will be discussed Monday night by the sub-committee and all Republicans who participate are requested to communicate at once with chairman Clinton Dodge at his office.

The committee met last night discussed plans for the immediate organization of Republican clubs in the various assembly districts for the purpose of later putting Republican candidates in the field for nomination to the legislative offices. Active work will begin following the Chicago convention.

Army Reorganization
Bill to Wilson

WASHINGTON, May 25.—The army reorganization bill, first of the administration's important preparedness measures passed by Congress, was received at the White House today and immediately forwarded to Secretary Baker for a report. In the meantime the President is studying its provisions in detail. It may be several days before the bill is signed.

The American Union Against Militarism wrote to President Wilson today saying they assumed he had obtained an opinion as to the constitutionality of the federalization of the National Guard from Attorney General Gregory and asked that the opinion be made public.

Texas Militiamen
to Be Courtmartialled

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Reversing his decision of yesterday, Secretary of War Baker announced today he will call a court-martial to try the cases of 116 Texas militiamen charged with failing to present themselves for border duty.

Fairbanks Boomers
on Job at Chicago

CHICAGO, May 25.—Charles W. Fairbanks' presidential boom was brought to Chicago today by James P. Goodrich, national committeeman and Republican nominee for governor of Indiana. Headquarters will be opened either tomorrow or Friday and an active pre-convention campaign launched for the Indiana candidate.

Mr. Goodrich will be aided in the management of the Fairbanks campaign by Will H. Hays, chairman of the Republican state committee of Indiana, Edward C. Toner, former Progressive state chairman, and Horace C. Stillwell.

Mr. Goodrich issued a statement in which he said:

Wheeler to Deliver
Last School Lecture

R. S. Wheeler, director of lectures for the public schools of this city, will deliver the last of the free public school lectures tonight in the Lockwood school, East Fourteenth street and Sixty-eighth avenue, in place of Wallace Bradford, who was injured in San Francisco last week. Wheeler will talk on "A Trip to Tahiti in the South Seas," and will illustrate his lecture with about 100 colored lantern slides. Bradford was to have spoken on "The Garden of Allah."

Roseland Court to Give Whist Party

The committee has perfected all plans for the railroad whist party to be given by Roseland Court, No. 21, Order of Locomotives, in the Roseland Music Temple, East Fourteenth street and Eighty-avenue, tomorrow evening.

The prizes will consist of articles that are used by persons who are traveling. This being the first time railroad whist has been played here, it is assumed by the committee that a good time will be had by all who attend.

CANDIDATES OPEN UP HEADQUARTERS

CHICAGO, May 25.—Headquarters for four candidates for the Republican nomination for President were opened today. They are:

1310 West of New York.

Senator John W. Weeks of Massachusetts.

Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana.

Theodore E. Burton of Ohio.

Charles M. Pepper, publicity representative of the Elihu Root boom, arrived today and took possession of the rooms reserved for New York's "favorite son" candidate.

George H. Moses of New Hampshire, former American minister to Greece, opened headquarters in "Presidential Row" for Senator Weeks.

The Burton headquarters were opened by G. W. Mooney, former speaker of the Ohio state House of Representatives, and the Fairbanks boom was formally launched by the opening of headquarters with James P. Goodrich, Republican nominee for governor of Indiana, in charge.

CHAMP CLARK NOT TO BE CHAIRMAN

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Speaker Champ Clark will not act as chairman of the Democratic national convention, either temporary or permanent. Informally, but in the most emphatic manner, the speaker has caused it to be known that he will not accept the honor of presiding over the convention that will renominate President Woodrow Wilson and that he will regard it as a favor if he be let entirely alone in connection with the convention arrangements.

When Is Man Legally Dead?

James Level Asks Question to Escape Jail

PORTLAND, May 25.—While James L. Level was held in jail for a debt, attorneys today asked Circuit Judge Morrow to declare his cousin, John M. Level, legally dead.

John Level is serving a sentence of fifteen years or life imprisonment in San Quentin penitentiary. James Level owes him $1043. Friends of John Level had James arrested on an "execution against the body," and by paying the county for his board, are holding James in jail.

Attorneys agree that John Level is "civilly" dead, but there is some question whether he is legally dead. Judge Morrow today demanded a transcript of the proceedings in the California court where John Level was sent to San Quentin. The attorneys are not certain whether he is serving fifteen years or life.

Cherry-Ripe Notes Win Wife Divorce

Cherries may be harmless gifts for a single woman to make to a married man, but when she encloses her photograph and a tender epistle in the package and her friend's wife finds them, then harm may be done.

"If I were your wife I would make you the happiest man in the world," read one of the notes which Mrs. Hamilton Glass, 215 Thirty-fourth street, testified had been written her husband by Portia B. Hill of Vacaville. Mrs. Glass has been awarded an interlocutory decree of divorce by Judge Donahue. She told the court about the presents of boxes of cherries, her husband received from Vacaville, and introduced letters she had found as evidence of his affection for the other woman. Altogether there were more than twenty letters.

On the grounds that her husband was accustomed to throwing tableware and furniture at her, Catherine E. Sullivan has commenced suit for divorce from Miles J. Sullivan, a factory foreman.

'HAPPY JACK' IS HEIR TO PEERAGE

Steward Finds He Is English Baron, Reluctant to Claim Title.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 25.—"Happy Jack" Pennington, steward on the steamer Wapama, today held a conference with an English barrister who wants Jack to go back to England and assume the title of Baron Manchester.

The lawyer asserts, and has lots of documentary evidence to prove, that "Happy Jack" is the legal heir to the peerage. Baron Manchester died recently, leaving no direct heirs. His nearest relatives have been killed in the war. Jack Pennington doesn't doubt the story, but he is reluctant to give up his comfortable berth and shoulder the responsibility of a regular peer. He is quite sure the lawyer isn't spoofing.

Ever since Happy Jack's shipmates learned about his prospects they have besieged him with applications for positions as keeper of the baron's oyster. Also, they want him to invest his prospective fortune in steamboat stock and give them all good jobs.

"Let 'em bring around some more evidence and then—maybe I'll go," said Jack.

Evelyn Thaw Now Mrs. Virgil Montani

NEW YORK, May 25.—Evelyn Nesbit Thaw announced today that hereafter she is Mrs. Virgil James Montani, having married Montani, whose stage name is Jack Clifford, at Ellinger City, Md., yesterday. In obtaining a license the bride gave her name as Florence Nesbit and her age as 31.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not constipate, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now, and then—a bad breath, a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Colonel Merrill Is Sought by Police

BOSTON, May 25.—The disappearance of Colonel Winthrop Merrill, who was prominent in the national guard and in state politics several years ago, was made known tonight when it was announced that the police were trying to locate him. Mrs. Merrill said her husband left home a month ago saying he was going to Philadelphia on business, and that she last heard from him in a letter written from Philadelphia three weeks ago in which he said he would return home on the following Saturday.

The fact that he was missing was called to the attention of the police by a real estate operator who holds a note for money which he claims to have advanced to Merrill.

Merrill is a son of the late Moody Merrill, a prominent Boston financier, who disappeared in 1893 and later was indicted for embezzlement. Ten years later he was discovered living in Silver City, N. M., where he had become a leading citizen under the name of Charles F. Grayson. He was brought back to Boston and held for trial, but died a few months afterward.

A New Back for an Old One—
How an Oakland Resident
Made a Bad Back Strong.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame that to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back if the kidneys are weak. You cannot reach the cause. Follow the example of this Oakland citizen.

Mrs. G. E. Bothwell, 340 Inabella street, Oakland, says: "My opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills as expressed in a statement I gave in their favor in October, 1912, remains unchanged. During the interval of over three years that has passed I have not used them and have had no occasion to. However, their previous use satisfied me that they are a dependable kidney and backache medicine. The good results I got having lasted, makes me free to endorse the claims made for Doan's Kidney Pills of all occasions."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Bothwell had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

OAKLAND WOMAN'S SONG IS WINNER

Home Industry League Gives
Second Prize to Ada
Weigle.

Considerable interest in the music contest recently conducted by the Home Industry League of California has been shown in all parts of the State. This contest was to secure music for the official poem—"Home Grown." The choosing of the music was left to the 400 guests at the special Ladies' Day luncheon held in a hotel in San Francisco. From more than 150 contributions that were received, the six best were selected. These included the two songs during the luncheon, and the two places receiving the greatest applause were awarded the prizes.

OAKLAND WOMAN WINS.
H. S. Grinnett of San Francisco was awarded the first prize of $25, and Ada Mueller Weigle of Oakland was awarded the second prize of $15. The music receiving the first prize is to be adopted as the official Home Industry League song, and is planned to publish it with distribution at an early date.

The Home Industry League of California is an organization of over 800 manufacturers in this State, who, together with the 10,000 auxiliary women members, are encouraging the buying of made and produced California goods, price and quality being equal.

Through the persistent educational campaign, this organization has been responsible for the keeping of millions of dollars in circulation within the State.

THE POEM.
The Home Industry poem, "Home Grown," to which the music was written, is as follows:

You don't plant oats upon a hill
A hundred miles away,
And somewhere else your corn to drill
You know would never pay.
You plant at home to get the yield
Made and produced California
Whatever crops are grown
For planting in some other field
Will never help your own.

And it's the same with dollars,
For dollars, too, are seed;
The cash today you send away
Tomorrow you will need.
Don't send your cash far to roam,
But, wiser, learn to sow—
Just plant your dollars here at home,
And watch your dollars grow.

Fruitvale Pupils
to Give Concert

A number of Fruitvale children will take part in a musical next Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Chapman, in Lincoln avenue, Fruitvale. Violin pupils of Peter Van der Meer, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Bibby and Miss Marjorie Cohen, will give the following program:

President of Tacoma Mill Co.
Is Overtaken by Fatal Stroke.

The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of his daughter Mrs. Arthur H. Markwart, 377 Palm avenue. They will be in charge of Rev. Clinton Macoun, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, of which Cheesebrough was a member. The members of the family will act as pallbearers.

While his business interests were on the other side of the bay Cheesebrough was well known in the east bay cities. He was vice-president of the San Francisco Merchants' Exchange from 1908 to 1910. He was a brother of the late Andronicus Cheesebrough, for long head of Williams, Diamond & Company, shipping and commission merchants.

Henry C. Cheesebrough was sixty-two years of age and was a native of Baltimore, Md. During his thirty years' residence on the Pacific Coast he had made his home in Oakland. His lumber mills were at Tacoma. W. H. Hansen, his partner in the Tacoma Mills Company recently died.

Besides a widow, Mrs. Maria Cheesebrough, of 443 Lee street, and a daughter Mrs. Arthur H. Markwart, Cheesebrough is survived by three grandchildren—Arthur, Herman, Henry Cheesebrough and John Markwart—and two sisters, Mrs. Sarah E. Frankfort of Philadelphia and Mrs. Hannah Chase of Baltimore.

Will Pen Story of
"The Grip of Evil"
For Serial

NEW YORK, May 25.—Louis Tracy, who takes rank with Anthony Hope as one of the great English romantic novelists of the present generation, discovered today that the movies could be literature—if their makers knew how to make them literature.

Tracy arrived at this discovery at a meeting with J. A. Berst, vice-president and general manager of the House of Pathe. As a result of this meeting, Tracy is engaged to write the newest serial picture, "The Grip of Evil," in the $5,000,000, yearly serial program of Pathe.

"A fine moving picture does not illustrate a story—it is a story; and sometimes it is drama, not merely the pictorialization of drama."

These were among the first words that Tracy heard in his talk with Berst, and they opened his eyes and set him thinking.

"But are pictures ever literature?" asked the English writer.

"That is the point; what do you think?" questioned the moving picture man.

TREATMENT OF THEME.
"That depends—on theme and on treatment of theme. The theme of all great literary works, romantic or otherwise, must be such that it has some application to human life in a vital fashion, and the treatment of such theme always be such as to give rise to thought as well as to provoke enjoyment. Can anything like this be transposed to moving pictures?"

"And why not?" said Berst, who knows literature and has often responded to it to pictures in his long experience in penetrating the resources of the screen drama.

"Take the theme of the new serial motion picture we now have in mind," pursued Berst. "It is this—humanity in the grip of an evil force, or is there some power to good that, in the end, converts wrong into some better purpose."

Tracy became intensely interested. "But that is philosophy and, of course, is beyond pictorialization," Berst smiled and said meditatively.

"No, Tracy, you will see that you are wrong. It is true that this is philosophy, but motion pictures can bring to the heart of an audience, if the originator of pictures knows how to make pictures do it, and do it, moreover, interestingly—interestingly to the point of intensity."

"Suppose you take that theme and let it become human in the person or man who doubts—doubts whether humanity is in the grip of evil or is guided by a power higher and better than evil. Suppose you permit this embodied theme to test his doubt by mingling with all the thousands upon thousands of his kind in the human beehive; suppose—"

Tracy's powers of creation were already at work, the story that

HOCKEY GAME IS ATTRACTING SPORTS

Ice Palace Contest on Friday
Night to Call for Best Efforts.

"Ted" Sinclair of the Olympic Club, referee of Friday night's big hockey game at the Teichau Tavern Ice Palace, will meet the players on the competing clubs tomorrow afternoon prepared to lay down the law on just what sort of a game he will allow. Sinclair wants a clean, fast game, with no gouging and stick slashing. Next to the old-time finish fights, there is no sport where as many dirty tricks may be employed as in ice hockey.

The Polo Club will have a final workout this afternoon. Sometime today, too, the San Francisco players will wind up their training period. There is no change in the sporting speculation around the clubs and among the Montgomery street brokers. The Polo program is still the short and at about 5 to 10. As the players step out on the ice tomorrow night, the price may lengthen somewhat, though doubtful. Keshan Monahan has a commission to lay against the Polo Club which was soon covered last night.

Many of the Canadian club players, all experts, think Robertson, Dunlop and Peters are away too fast for the Polo defense. The Polo players are much heavier and bigger men, but the speed is with the green shifted locals. "Ned" Greenway is backing the Polo players wherever they play. He is a member of the San Francisco team and "Joe" Moody, the lightning forward of the Poloists, is a bit too fast and may not go in in the first period. McCormick's arm is still worrying him.

PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS
Want No Medicos
SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—That schools are better off without doctors and nurses on the job to inspect the youngsters is the belief of the Parents' Rights League.

Supervisor Emmet J. Hayden has received a letter from the organization, protesting against the proposed appropriation of $500 for the Board of Health for medical inspection and nurses in the parochial schools.

"Since June, 1914," the letter states, "the parochial schools have enjoyed a higher percentage of freedom from contagious and infectious diseases than the public schools with fourteen nurses and three doctors."

"We have reports from all but three of the parochial schools and none wants nurses or medical inspection."

ALDEN CLUB TO CONVEY.
Discussion of street matters and other business will be heard tomorrow night before the Alden Library and Improvement Club. The session will be held at the Vander Naillen engineering school, 5175 Telegraph avenue.

McCLINTOCK IS DEAD.
SONORA, May 25.—Captain W. H. McClintock, a mining engineer well known in the West, died here today. He was a native of California, 61 years old.

should be made to emerge in pictures was already fashioning itself in his mind.

"I have seen the light," said the writer.

"We want you to see it for us," said Berst.

And that is how Louis Tracy came to write "The Grip of Evil" for Pathe, the story that will be put forth on the screen this summer.

Tracy has fallen in love with the possibilities of the motion picture as an outlet for his talents and he is pre-eminently fitted to cope with them. His greatest novel, "The Wings of the Morning," revealed the humanly philosophical aspect of the problem of a man and woman whom chance throws together upon a deserted island. And his creative imagination contrived to imbue this theme with swift and tense incident. His powers are now at their zenith and "The Grip of Evil" which, in its novelized form by Tracy, will be published serially throughout the country, promises to be his finest work.

Tracy, in his time, has had a million readers and many of his works are still constantly in demand. Some of these, besides "The Wings of the Morning," are "The Pillar of Light," "The Silent Barrier," "Karl Grier," "A Son of the Immortals" and "The Great Mogul." He is a man of remarkable personality and like most such, is of an extreme reserve. So much has this been the case that very little has been known concerning him and it has been said that he was merely a pseudonym. But he is very much Louis Tracy, born in Liverpool and educated in France. Mr. Tracy ran away from home to join the British navy but did not find that his vocation. Instead, he drifted into journalism and then became a writer in his own right, to whom recognition was not long in coming.

Children Need A Warm Table Drink

Many parents understand that tea and coffee hinder mental development and body growth in their children, but are puzzled how to gratify the little folks' desire for a warm drink, without harming them.

For years now, in a considerable number of American homes, the problem has been solved by

Instant Postum

This pure food-drink is made of prime wheat, roasted with a bit of pure, wholesome molasses. It closely resembles the higher grades of mild Java coffee in color and flavor, has a delightful aroma, and is so pleasing that the older folks join the children in this wholesome beverage.

Where the rest of the family stick to coffee, Instant Postum for the children causes no extra work. A level teaspoonful in a cup with hot water and cream and sugar to taste makes a delightful drink instantly.

"There's a Reason" for POSTUM

Sold by Grocers everywhere.

HINTS FOR AUTO OWNERS

Because oil has a disintegrating effect, not only on rubber but on cotton and fabric as well, care should be taken to see that the wiring for electric lighting and engine starting system is well protected. If oil is permitted to remain on the wiring the insulation will in time be softened so that the slightest chafing will cause the bare copper to be exposed and a short circuit or a leakage of current follow.

Leather boots are used on universal joints to protect them from dirt. The boots should not be filled with grease. A little lubricant sufficient to cover the part will serve better than a quantity. If too much is used it will force the boot open and be wasted.

Ground cork mixed with heavy grease is very often used to advantage in rear wheel hub caps to reduce the rattling of the axle shaft dog. Flanking axles using driving dogs are noisy when worn. The cork in the grease will serve to reduce the noise.

A motor should not be permitted to labor even if it can be kept going. When running very slowly the sudden blows of the explosions acting against the resistance of the slow-moving crankshaft set up tremendous stresses that are as dangerous as they are unnecessary.

A motor that is subject to considerable vibration is liable to have its cylinders work loose on the crankcase through the loosening of the holding-down bolts or nuts if they are not watched. A wrench should be applied occasionally to make sure that everything is tight. The trouble that arises from loose cylinders runs all the way from leakage of oil to a wrecked motor.

When purchasing electric light bulbs one should note with care the type of lamp needed. If the voltage system is high, the ordinary six-volt bulb will not prove serviceable. It will burn out very quickly. Lamps should be obtained of sufficiently high voltage to eliminate this possibility.

SLAUGHTER FLOCK DIVIDED IN TWO

Lamson Ends Silence, Says He Would Have Slain Chico Pastor.

CHICO, May 25.—A split in the congregation of the First Baptist Church of this city became inevitable last night when friends and foes of the Rev. Madison Slaughter met to consider what payment is due to the pastor convicted of violating 15-year-old Gertrude Lamson.

Although the doors were locked to the press and to all except members of the congregation, word came from the meeting that the anti-Slaughter faction was in control. A motion to pay Slaughter's salary up to May 15 was defeated, as was another to suspend thirteen members who took part in the prosecution.

WILL LEAD PRO-SLAUGHTERITES. The Rev. A. A. Hull, who has acted virtually as an assistant to Slaughter for more than a year, attended the services, and it was said that he would be the pastor of the pro-Slaughterites.

Both sides admit that the church is legally bound to pay Slaughter up to May 15, but a resolution to do this was defeated by a vote of 59 to 45.

Indications at a late hour were that the meeting would last all night, and at its close there will be two Baptist congregations in Chico.

It's better for me, for the girl and for everybody concerned that I took the attitude I did, for if I had believed Slaughter guilty at first, I would have killed him.

STATEMENT ENDS SILENCE. After several unsuccessful attempts to interview him had been made, Fred M. Lamson made this statement late last night when pressed for an explanation of his stand before the Butte county probate court at the time he asked that the custody of his daughter, Gertrude Lamson, upon whose testimony Madison Slaughter now is in San Quentin, be returned to him.

Lamson declared that various circumstances had led him to believe in Slaughter's innocence at the outset of the case, but that he had believed in his guilt since the beginning of the second trial.

KILLED BY OLD MAINE SHELL. WAKEFIELD, Mass., May 25.—The explosion of a shell said to have come from one of the batteries of the battleship Maine, which was blown up in Havana harbor, killed John H. Busch and caused probably fatal injuries to his young son, John Jr. Busch returned recently from Cuba and brought home the shell as a souvenir. He was picking it up with a steel instrument when it exploded.

CARRANZA TROOPS ARE REINFORCED

U. S. Cavalry Patrols Instructed to Act Only on Defensive

Texas Citizens Organize to Repel Mexican Raiders

COLUMBUS, N. M., May 25.—New orders were forwarded to General Pershing from General Funston today, governing the course to be taken by United States forces in the event of a clash with Carranza troops. These orders were necessitated by the strong reinforcements just received by Mexican columns near the American expedition.

The movements made within the last forty-eight hours were said to offset the redistribution of certain Carranza commands, but no details were available at military headquarters and it was pointed out that any movements under way were minor and do not affect the general expeditionary policy.

A quantity of shrapnel and other ammunition which arrived here from the front Monday was sent back today. It was explained that the shipment had been consigned from Namiquipa to Colonia Dublan, but through a mistake was turned through to Columbus. Several cavalry patrols are scouting through the Namiquipa district, according to fragmentary reports reaching here, but these, it was learned, are acting merely as intelligence detachments, orders having been given them to act only on the defensive and to take no prisoners.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., May 25.—Fear of a raid by Mexican coal miners, about 100 in number, has caused vigorous precautionary measures by the citizens of Lytle, Tex. It was reported tonight by women and children of the town, who were sent here to await the restoration of normal conditions. Word of an alleged plot to attack Lytle was given by a farmer, who said he refused to join the Mexican forces in their plans. Lytle is situated thirty miles southwest of San Antonio in Atascosa county and is the center of a coal mining region.

ELECTIONS EXPECTED.
EL PASO, TEXAS, May 25.—As the first step in the restoration of a constitutional government, the Carranza administration has prepared a decree calling for municipal elections and the establishment of free municipalities, according to a message from Mexico City received today by Andres Garcia, the Mexican consul here.

Following the municipal elections orders will be issued successively for state and congressional elections and lastly for the choosing of a president of the republic. The first election is ordered for July.

Funston Fails to Get Artillerymen

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Reports that General Funston had requested additional coast artillerymen for infantry service along the Mexican border were confirmed today when it was announced the request had been refused. In explanation of its refusal the war department said it did not desire to stir the coast defenses further. The request came subsequent to the summoning of militia. Funston has not asked for more National Guardsmen.

$70,000 Damage Suits Follow Fatal Smash

FAIRFIELD, May 5.—Damage suits aggregating $70,000, have been filed here against William Pierce, wealthy fruit grower of Suisun Valley, this county. These are the result of an accident a year ago, when an automobile and a Northern Electric car collided in Chadbourne Lane, Suisun Valley, killing three persons and permanently injuring another.

Pierce, the complaint alleges, made a contract with the girls killed and injured to furnish an automobile for transportation to and from Vacaville, where they were employed by him packing cherries.

The Northern Electric was made a defendant also in this suit, totaling $50,000. Negligence was alleged. These cases are now awaiting trial.

The suits and plaintiffs are as follows: Myrtle Hurst, for alleged permanent injuries, $20,000; Leona Waring, mother of Myrtle Hurst, and as her guardian, $10,000, on account of injuries to her daughter; Emma Pester, mother of Estelle Pester, who was killed, $20,000; and Horace Eddy, $20,000 for the death of his daughter, Velma Eddy.

Observatory Chair One of Many Specimens of Handiwork

AN exhibition of work from the various departments of the Vocational High School, situated at Twelfth and Market streets, will be held Friday afternoon and evening.

Work will be shown from the machine shop, blacksmith shop, electric shop, automobile shop, printing shop, cabinet shop, dressmaking and millinery departments, and from the mechanical and freehand drawing departments. It will be the most pretentious exhibition of school shop products that has ever been held in Oakland.

The students in this school are pursuing trade courses, and devote half the day to shop work, and the other half to academic work. The work turned out is not amateurish, but shows, in skill and finish, the merits of the practical workman. Most of the shop product is used in some department of the city. An example is the observing chair built for the new Chabot Observatory.

CO-OPERATION.
The manufacture of such a piece of apparatus is made possible by the co-operation of the various shops with the drawing department just as the different departments of large manufacturing plants co-operate.

All pencil drawings, tracings and blue prints for the chair (there were twelve drawings in all) were made by the students in the school drafting room, under the direction of the drawing instructor. The blue prints are being used by other students in the various shops. Most of the drawing work for the observing chair was done by students who are specializing in drawing with the expectation of becoming draftsmen.

The chair consists of a steel structure eight feet high, having inclined guide-rails on which a movable seat slides, and on either side of the guide-rails a stairway by which the seat may be reached. The seat is counterbalanced so that it may be easily moved from the height of an ordinary chair to a height of nine feet above the floor.

OTHER EXHIBITS.
The whole structure is mounted on rubber-tired ball-bearing castors so that it may be easily moved about.

In addition to this chair a large lathe and other work will be shown from the machine shop.

An exhibit of specially designed furniture will be shown. Also tool making from the forge shop and electric construction and repair work from the electric shop. Ladies will be especially interested in the artistic products of the dressmaking and millinery departments.

An invitation has been extended to friends and parents of the students, also to the graduating classes of all the grammar schools and their parents and to the public in general.

There will be music by the school orchestra and Glee Club.

MISS HARRY MEER ENTERTAINS.

AUDITOR FLEES WITH FIRM'S GOLD

John S. Cobath, Trusted Man of S. F. Company, Accused of Embezzlement.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—John S. Cobath, of 1717 Charles street, Alameda, auditor of the High Whelan Company, with stores in Oakland, San Francisco and other coast cities, is accused of felony embezzlement in a warrant sworn out here this morning. Cobath, formerly secretary of the Young Men's Christian Association in an Illinois city, has always been a trusted employee and his disappearance several days ago and the experting of his books, have electrified his employers.

Since 1914 Cobath, who is 26 years old and unmarried, has been in charge of the finances of the concern, with offices at 120 Post street, San Francisco. On Monday he failed to appear at his office and yesterday, when he was still missing, I. G. Weinberg, general manager, investigated and discovered that between $500 and $1000 was missing from a safe deposit box to which Cobath had access. Weinberg believes it possible that an accident suffered by Cobath last January may have caused a change in his mentality that led him to take the funds of the concern.

Husband Sends Riot Call to Quell Family

Laurence Galindo, 5336 Bryant street, sent a riot call to the northern police station at 3 o'clock this morning that he was being abused by his wife and his mother-in-law. Patrolmen Stebbins and Jennings rushed to the home in an auto patrol, and rescued Galindo.

Galindo explained that there had been a free-for-all in his home, during which his face was scratched and threats were made that he would have his eyes torn out.

The presence of the police restored peace, and Galindo asked that no arrests should be made.

Steals Pre-requisites for Riotous Time

The Clinton Hotel, foot of Sixth avenue, was entered last night by a burglar who stole $10 in coin, two bottles of whiskey and a box of matches. The report of the burglary was made by John T. Barry.

Other thefts were reported as follows: Henry Cammas, 700 Washington street, clothes, watch and chain stolen; Miss May Lomley, 717 Washington street, traveling bag and contents stolen; Leo Nickles, 685 14th street, $17 in coin and wireless instruments stolen.

The extreme penalty in the case of a verdict of guilty is returned in imprisonment from one to five years, a fine of $2,000, or both.

SOCIAL INSURANCE SYSTEM WATCHED

California's Advance Causes
Authorities to Closely Study Plan.

SACRAMENTO, May 25.—California's social insurance plan is being closely watched by eastern health authorities and social workers, according to Dr. W. A. Sawyer, secretary of the State Board of Health, who returned today from Washington, D. C., where he attended several health conferences.

California has advanced further along this line than any other State. New York, Massachusetts and New Jersey sought to take steps toward a social insurance system, but the efforts fell flat. This State has a social insurance commission which is conducting a thorough investigation. It is expected that the next legislature, upon hearing the report and recommendations of the commission, will pave the way for a social insurance plan under which workers can be insured against sickness.

The plan is to have the employer, employee and the State share the payment of premiums. In case of sickness a worker would receive a stated sum each week.

If California makes a success of it, other States will rapidly fall in line, Dr. Sawyer predicts.

Vocational Students Register for Jobs

The school department is assisting in the work of the Vocational Guidance society of California in obtaining information work for school children of Oakland. The society has been established on the eleventh floor of the city hall.

Lists of people who desire vocational work are being obtained by the school principals, and are being indexed and filed by the society. Merchants and others desiring boys for summer work are informing the bureau of their needs.

Spy Suspects Are Irrigation Experts

YUMA, Ariz., May 25.—Three Mexicans, taken before military authorities Tuesday when they were found making photographs of the army camp and the Yuma irrigation system, identified themselves as a commission appointed by Adolfo de La Huerta governor of Sonora, Mexico, to investigate irrigation. It was learned today.

G. Corella, chairman, said the commission was studying a plan to irrigate 150,000 acres of land in Sonora by extending a system from the Yuma project.

How Would You Like to Buy a Lingerie Dress For $1.95?

And how would you like to buy a blue or black Serge Dress for $3.95? or a Silk Dress at $1.95?

You don't believe it's possible, do you? Well, it isn't possible very often, but here is one of the few occasions on which you can get a dress at a price so ridiculously low that you can scarcely believe it until you've really purchased it.

At CHERY'S store at 515 13th street there's an extraordinary Clearance Sale going on this week that is decidedly unusual. Odds and ends and broken lines of Dresses, Suits and Coats that have accumulated are being closed out at prices absolutely so low that the entire assortment is bound to be disposed of like lightning.

Now, these Lingerie Dresses at $1.95 are in broken sizes and there's not more than one or two of a kind. Some of them are slightly soiled, but that makes little difference, as every woman knows. The Serge and Silk Dresses are fewer than the Lingerie, so if you want one of these you must get it quickly.

There's one assortment of tan and gray Suits in small sizes that are being sold at $2.95. There's another lot of Serge Suits at $3.95. There are only a few dozen Suits altogether. If your size is among them you'll get a bargain that will tax your credulity.

Now take the Coats. There's a fair size assortment of chifton broadcloth Evening Coats and Wraps being sold at the unheard-of price of $1.95. These are all beautifully satin lined. In mixtures, covert cloth and tan and white serge, you'll find a group at $3.95.

If you want a Sport Coat, hurry. There's a handful left that are going at $1.95. Think of it! In short Novelty Coats in bright colors, cut along sport lines, you may find your size at $3.95.

Not one woman in a hundred can resist hurrying to an extraordinary sale like this. Every woman who goes fitted in a Suit, Dress or Coat may never be able to get such a bargain again in her life. CHERY'S store is at 515 13th street. Don't lose any time! You can have credit.—Advertisement.

Anyone Can Boost Winner Losers Need It the Most Oaks' Ball Is to Be a Rally

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Oaks ball held last night, it was decided that the time of the big affair is far from opportune. The forces that comprise the Oak boosters have agreed that the team is all right, and that the management is doing all in its power to strengthen the club that represents this city. It is therefore time for all the local fans of Oakland to get together and assist the players to get going again.

With good pitching the Oaks have proved they can win, and Messrs. Leavitt and Cook are combining the major leagues for reliable twirlers.

The Oak boosters think that Oakland fans can do a great deal to get the team out of this slump, and the team, with the aid of the new men who are coming, should be able to jump right up and be in the race. Boosters critics seem to agree that the Oakland Club belongs locally in the first division, and that public support will get them into the straits that will lead them to their goal.

The Oaks' ball will be on the evening of "Rube" Gardner day. The old reliable "Rube," who has been in a slump, is hitting the ball to all corners of the lot, and leading the league in that department.

partment, is to be the honored one at the game a week from today. The example of a player who refuses to let himself be pulled down by old man slump will be before everyone on that day. In the evening all the Oakland boosters will show the team that Old Man Slump has not taken possession of the Oakland rooters. Fans that believe the possession of a winning team is important to the city of Oakland, will be at the municipal auditorium on the night of June 1, rooting for a team that we all believe can win, and their confidence is restored.

The time is not inopportune. Any one can boost a winner, but it takes a man to get behind something that is losing, even if he believes that it should be winning. The boys are all working hard, and it is up to us to show that this great demonstration is for them. The knowledge that 10,000 people think enough of the team to come out and root for them may help them out of their rut. The knowledge that 10,000 people will come out with their money to make up a present winning prize for them, may help the boys to get through.

All the fellows along Broadway are asking you to do your bit, and attend the big dance of the summer at the auditorium next Thursday night.

TROEH FINISHES HIGH TRAP EVENT

SEATTLE, Wash., May 25.—Frank Troeh of Vancouver, Wash., finished high amateur in the 500-target event of the Washington State Trap-shooting Tournament, which ended yesterday. Troeh's score was 281. Frank Templeton of Portland was second with 278 and P. J. O'Brien of Everett third with 276. Troeh also was the Interstate Association amateur champion, breaking 144 of 150 targets in this event. C. E. Jickney of Seattle was second with a score of 94 and R. S. Seale of Seattle third with 92.

HOPE TO CONSTRUCT ICE RINK HERE

Oakland business men are vowing with interest the success attendant upon the ice-skating craze in San Francisco, and the prospect that the sport will become a permanent feature of Pacific coast athletics. It is believed that some sort of an east bay ice skating rink will eventually materialize. Felix M. Locher was host last week at a luncheon to Paul Wilson and Miss Clara Casell, both noted exponents of ice skating.

Wilson and Locher have both skated on most of the European ice rinks, and Locher won the Swiss amateur title in 1911. They are seeking to interest capital in the construction of an ice palace in Oakland.

NILES CUP TOURNEY STARTS SATURDAY

The annual handicap singles tournament for the R. C. Niles cup will be held on the Berkeley Tennis club courts, May 27, 28 and 29. The preliminary round matches will be played Saturday afternoon. Entries will be received up to Saturday noon.

They will be served to members and their guests after the finals on Decoration day, ladies of the club acting as hostesses.

LEWISTON, Idaho, May 25.—Jack Taylor of Spokane won in straight falls here last night from Joe Marsh of Seattle. The first in forty-five minutes with a hammerlock and the second in eleven minutes with an arm bar and half Nelson. The men are heavyweights.

SURF BEACH HANDICAP RACE JUNE 18

ALAMEDA, May 24.—The Surf Beach handicap race of the Aeolian Yacht club, which was to have been sailed Sunday, has been postponed until June 18. The starting line will be between Surf Beach and a stake boat, thence to barrel off Hunter's Point, thence to battleship Oregon off Polson street wharf, thence back to finish across starting line.

The preparatory flag will be hoisted at 12:55 o'clock and lowered at 1 o'clock. The Pacific International Yacht Association racing rules will govern. The regatta committee announces that the start will be on announced time if there is wind enough to carry the boats over the line and two boats of the fleet are ready. Heretofore, the skippers have shown a disposition to delay the start in order to complete final preparations for the race.

The Surf Beach trophy will be a cup. A second prize will be awarded to winner of second honors should eight or more boats finish the race.

The club will present a ship's clock to the yacht winning the most points during the entire racing season. Points will be allowed as follows: First place, 20 points; second, 7 points; third, 5 points; fourth, 3 points; fifth, 2 points; sixth, 1 point.

The handicapping will be arbitrarily handled by the regatta committee, composed of Larry Knight, W. Jones and E. Wood.

TED LEWIS KNOCKS OUT MOHA. DAYTON, O., May 25.—Ted Lewis of New York knocked out Eddie Moha of New York here last night in the thirteenth round of their scheduled fifteen-round bout.

White, Lightweight, Beats Sam Morris, Featherweight Robinson Shades Edwards, But Gets Worst of Verdict

Joe White, Los Angeles 135-pounder, defeated Sammy Morris, Los Angeles 125-pounder, last night. White is little to be wondered at, for the average fan will even ponder over the fact that the officials would allow such a bout. White, the heavier, taller and tougher power, but the always trying youngster from hell to hell never tiring up in his work, and driving in right after right and left after left to Morris' face. It was a one-sided bout from the start. Morris' only chance lay in his ability to keep in close to the body and work hard in the fighting. But White was too strong and aggressive for Sammy and after throwing his younger off him, he would drive in a dozen fierce blows before his game little opponent could work his way into another clinch or lock the big fellow up in the infighting.

GOOD IN HIS CLASS.

In his class, that is, boxing the 125 or even the 135 pounders, such as Ford, Alvin and Felsinger, Morris is as classy and shifty a mixer as could be found. In his agreeing to battle White, he made a mistake. Joe, though he masquerades as a lightweight, is a heavy. He is always fought lightweights in Los Angeles and elsewhere. The matchmakers should see to it that he should stick in that class around here. If he wants to step into a class higher than his, and good, for White himself will bear the consequences, as did Morris.

ROBINSON BEATS EDWARDS.

Willie Robinson, San Francisco 135 pounder, got his long desired crack at Frankie Edwards, East Oakland 133 pounder last night. Willie wanted to meet Edwards before the Wheelmen show, but Frankie refused to meet him and agreed to hook up with Herb Brodie, whom Robinson defeated last week. On the same card, Robinson was slated to appear against Jim Phillips. Unfortunately for Jack Murphy and fortunately for Robinson, Phillips was unable to appear on account of a busted eye while a case of cold kept forced Brodie to skip his match with Edwards. So the old rivals, who once put up a great ten-round special to the Frank Klaus-Sallier-Petrovsky bout in San Francisco several years ago, were the only logical opponents.

A GOOD REASON.

Edwards protested upon meeting Robinson, but he was finally forced to take the match. And Frankie had a good reason for refusing to meet him. Though Edwards was finally awarded the decision, which the fans loudly booed, Robinson had a shade over Frankie. White was the aggressor and did all the heading from hell to hell. And in the second and third rounds he rushed Edwards all the time, kept putting right crooks, and beating him to the punch at long range.

A return go between the pair would be a good piece of matchmaking, as there were hundreds of fans in the audience last evening who thought the Edwards was not entitled to the decision given him.

AFTER DEFEATS BURNS.

It took Sallier Kid Carter and Jack Burns to put up the most exciting scrap of the evening. Carter, grabbing the decision after four rounds of stormy battling, the Mexican was floored twice in the second round when his opponent caught him a hard punch on the jaw with his right hand. Burns then went after him like a whirlwind in effort to finish him, but the Mex was too experienced and after dodging for a moment, he finished the round in good shape.

Then he proceeded to kick all kinds of stuff out of Burns and he won as he pleased in the final rounds.

ROME PULLS COMEBACK.

Frankie Rome pulled a genuine comeback by stopping Joe Rice in the second round. The latter took so many hard punches that he contented himself with sitting down on the canvas every minute or two. After giving Rome a few of his choice blows, the latter's second threw the towel into the ring in acknowledgment of defeat. Just what Referee Beaumont was preparing to stop the bout.

Rice's Lincoln took sick suddenly and Kid Wesley, as dark as the ace of spades, was substituted against Billy Alvarez. It is needless to say that Billy won. Wesley tried hard but was simply outclassed.

The Willie Lewis-Fredrick Barrett bout was stopped in the second round, Lewis getting the verdict. The bout was too one-sided. Young Gordon left handed Spider Sherman to the decision in the curtain raiser.

RED BRANCH KNIGHTS DRAW ATHLETES

In his agreeing to battle White, he made a mistake. Joe, though he masquerades as a lightweight, is a heavy. He is always fought lightweights in Los Angeles and elsewhere. The matchmakers should see to it that he should stick in that class around here. If he wants to step into a class higher than his, and good, for White himself will bear the consequences, as did Morris.

ROBINSON BEATS EDWARDS.

Willie Robinson, San Francisco 135 pounder, got his long desired crack at Frankie Edwards, East Oakland 133 pounder last night. Willie wanted to meet Edwards before the Wheelmen show, but Frankie refused to meet him and agreed to hook up with Herb Brodie, whom Robinson defeated last week. On the same card, Robinson was slated to appear against Jim Phillips. Unfortunately for Jack Murphy and fortunately for Robinson, Phillips was unable to appear on account of a busted eye while a case of cold kept forced Brodie to skip his match with Edwards. So the old rivals, who once put up a great ten-round special to the Frank Klaus-Sallier-Petrovsky bout in San Francisco several years ago, were the only logical opponents.

A GOOD REASON.

Edwards protested upon meeting Robinson, but he was finally forced to take

OFFICIAL NONSENSE AND ITS EVILS.

Alameda County has been getting the benefit of much undesirable publicity recently by the petty squabbles in the Oakland City Council and the odorous recall campaigns. Now Alameda city has emerged upon the stage for municipal scandal with a sordid episode that only can have the effect of further marring the county's reputation abroad and injuring the common welfare of its own residents.

Mayor Bartlett of Alameda has charged two city councilmen with attempt to solicit bribes. The complaints are of a most serious nature, and were contained in a letter from the mayor to the district attorney, which has been made public. After an investigation the district attorney reports that he is unable to find any corroborative evidence to Mayor Bartlett's charges. The district attorney writes Mayor Bartlett to the following pointed effect:

"If you have any other or further evidence which you can present to me, or the names of any other persons who are in the possession of any facts, I shall be glad to have you submit the same to me in order that I may sift this matter to the bottom, and if any crime has been committed, take the steps provided by law to bring the guilty parties to justice."

Such charges as have been uttered against the Alameda councilmen should, under no circumstances, have been uttered unless there was substantial basis for them. So far it appears they had no foundation whatsoever.

It is inconceivable that a man in the high position of the mayor of Alameda should make such charges without first having in his possession some tangible evidence to support them. The matter should not be disposed of upon the statement of the district attorney that he could find no corroborative evidence.

Mayor Bartlett should produce such evidence forthwith, and if he fails to do so the men whose character he has so wantonly attacked should demand that the punishment prescribed by law for such offenses be imposed.

It is stated over the signature of District Attorney Hynes that an official of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company reported to the district attorney that Mayor Bartlett had told this official that unless the traction company would lay a trap in an endeavor to catch the two councilmen in bribery he (Bartlett) would veto an ordinance then pending in Council and in which the traction company was interested. The ordinance was vetoed. The literature of law contains many terms for describing offenses and perhaps some of them, such as "compounding a felony," might be applicable in this connection. This is another matter which the district attorney would do well to investigate.

It is the duty of the mayor of a city to bring to the attention of the proper authorities every act of official wrong-doing. If he has knowledge of the commission of criminal acts he is under strict obligation to place the evidence thereof in the hands of the district attorney and before the grand jury. If he will perform this duty honestly the people and the newspapers will be with him and lend him their support. We do not question Mr. Bartlett's honesty, but we know that misdirected and undue zeal very often has as mischievous and injurious effect as downright dishonesty.

To charge in an open letter, as Mayor Bartlett has done, that crime has been committed is not evidence of crime. The people are getting genuinely tired of acts of stupidity and foolishness on the part of public officials. They are making Alameda County communities appear ridiculous and are hurting us in the eyes of our neighbors. It is time to call a halt. If individual consciousness and self-respect fail to preserve a proper measure of sanity in official acts the people will have to look for some other means. This silly squabbling and petty hectoring and airing of personal and political animosities cannot be permitted to go on interminably.

President Wilson has served notice to abrogate our commercial treaties with the following nations in order to clear the way for carrying out the La Follette seaman's law: Austria-Hungary (two treaties), Belgium, Bolivia, Brazil, Colombia (two treaties), Congo, Denmark, France (two treaties), Great Britain, Greece, Italy (two treaties), Netherlands (two treaties), Rumania, Spain, Sweden and Norway, Sweden, Tonga, The ease with which Mr. Wilson goes to the work of abrogating treaties in this connection is conspicuously different from the attitude he assumed in repealing the Panama Canal free tolls act. Then he said treaties were sacred things. He found a sacred provision against free tolls when most legal authorities and statesmen could not see it. Two bills have been introduced in Congress for the repeal of the scamman's law. If they should be passed it would be unnecessary to endanger our commercial relations with foreign countries. Binding commercial treaties will be very serviceable and much in vogue after peace is restored. We should be making new agreements instead of breaking old ones.

REVENUE FROM INHERITANCES.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has submitted to the ways and means committee of the House a revised estimate of revenue required to meet the expense of the national government for the fiscal year of 1916-17. He believes $150,000,000 additional revenue—that is, that much more than is promised under existing revenue-raising machinery—will be sufficient. This estimate is surprisingly low and with the preparedness measures, rural credits, good roads and flood control projects to be carried out, it is difficult to see how this extra sum will provide against a big deficit in 1917.

Inheritance taxes, extra income tax and a tax on war munitions are expected to provide the additional amount required. President Wilson has approved these three tax features, but it is not yet known whether Mr. McAdoo has abandoned his scheme to tax gasoline and internal combustion engines.

While it seems foolish for the National government, with its many resources for raising revenue indirectly and with the country sadly in need of a protective tariff, to impose these direct burdens on the people, they are certain to be levied. The Democratic majority is an assurance that they will be.

The question of a Federal tax on inheritances is a new one and will meet with strong opposition from the minority party in Congress. Comparatively few persons realize that such a tax will injuriously affect State revenues in States where inheritance laws are in operation. The Federal government is planning to grab this handsome source of State revenue and compel the States to meet their expenditures from other sources.

California for this fiscal year will collect nearly $3,500,000 under its inheritance tax law. This money is needed for the proper support of the State government. Five percent of it goes into the Teachers' Retirement Fund each year, and $250,000 into the General School Fund. The balance goes into the general treasury, and can be used for general State purposes. If the Federal government should impose a tax upon inheritances, it will mean that the States either will have to reduce their rates and thus greatly curtail their revenue from this source, or else will have to abandon this system of taxation entirely. But the States can not do without this money. It follows, therefore, that if we can not secure it from a tax upon inheritances, it will have to be secured in some other way. State Controller Chambers intimates that the burden will be shifted to the public utility corporations and adds this observation:

"While it is true that California now derives by far the greatest part of its revenue from a tax upon corporations, especially the public utility corporations, that tax is, of course, considered by these corporations when they fix their rates, and so, after all, the consumer in the long run bears, proportionately, the greatest part of the burden. The inheritance tax is not a burden upon people generally. Statistics show that in California about fifteen estates out of every thousand pay half of the total tax collected each year. Moreover, it is a tax that can not be shifted to the consumer. In addition, it is a tax that belongs logically to the States, and is a system that has been developed by the States with very great success."

There will be other effects, but they all will mean heavier burden for the consumer—The People. Why have the Democrats repudiated their campaign promises to levy "tariff for revenue only?"

THE DUTY AT CHICAGO.

(From the Philadelphia Telegraph.)

This is no time for individual ambition to play with the fate of the party. It was disrupted four years ago by causes not now necessary to recount, and which it will be well to forget. The Democratic party slipped into power through that unfortunate division, and the policy which that party has pursued in its exercise of power has done more than all other things to reunite the Republican element for the restoration of Republican policies in the administration of the government. No one can doubt that today a majority of the people of the country desire that change, and are expecting it.

The problem before the National Convention, to meet three weeks hence, is to nominate a candidate and formulate a platform on which the 3,481,884 votes cast for Taft and the 4,121,008 cast for Roosevelt in 1912 can be united against the Democratic vote of 6,291,195 cast for Wilson. United the Republican vote four years ago would have been in a majority of 1,315,598. Divided it enabled the Democratic party to win elections for its candidate in many Republican States by a mere plurality and thus secure an untimely triumph.

No Republican worthy to sit as a delegate in the coming convention can want those conditions repeated. Every one must feel an obligation to put aside all personal preference for the welfare of the party. If success is to be assured—and there has rarely been a more promising outlook—a candidate must be named who will command the earnest and enthusiastic support of those who voted for Taft and those who voted for Roosevelt in 1912. Such a candidate can be agreed upon only when every personal consideration is subordinated to the party interest—to the demand for party harmony and for success.

California berry boxes with the bottom coming up to meet you as you remove the top layers may "go" in their native state, but not in Oregon. The lid is on as to pretty near everything up there, it seems.

If there is a man in all California who can prove that he believed before election that the regular Republican ticket would be triumphant by a majority of 27,633, we are in favor of awarding him the prize.

The differences among British statesmen as to how it shall be done, just now exemplified by Churchill "scoring the policy," seems from this distance and in the face of the emergencies to be untimely disputations.

The squabbles in the Alameda city council have reached a stage where it would appear they might be ended by the definite action of disinterested citizens who have real concern for the city's good name and the community's progress.

TRUE PATRIOTISM.

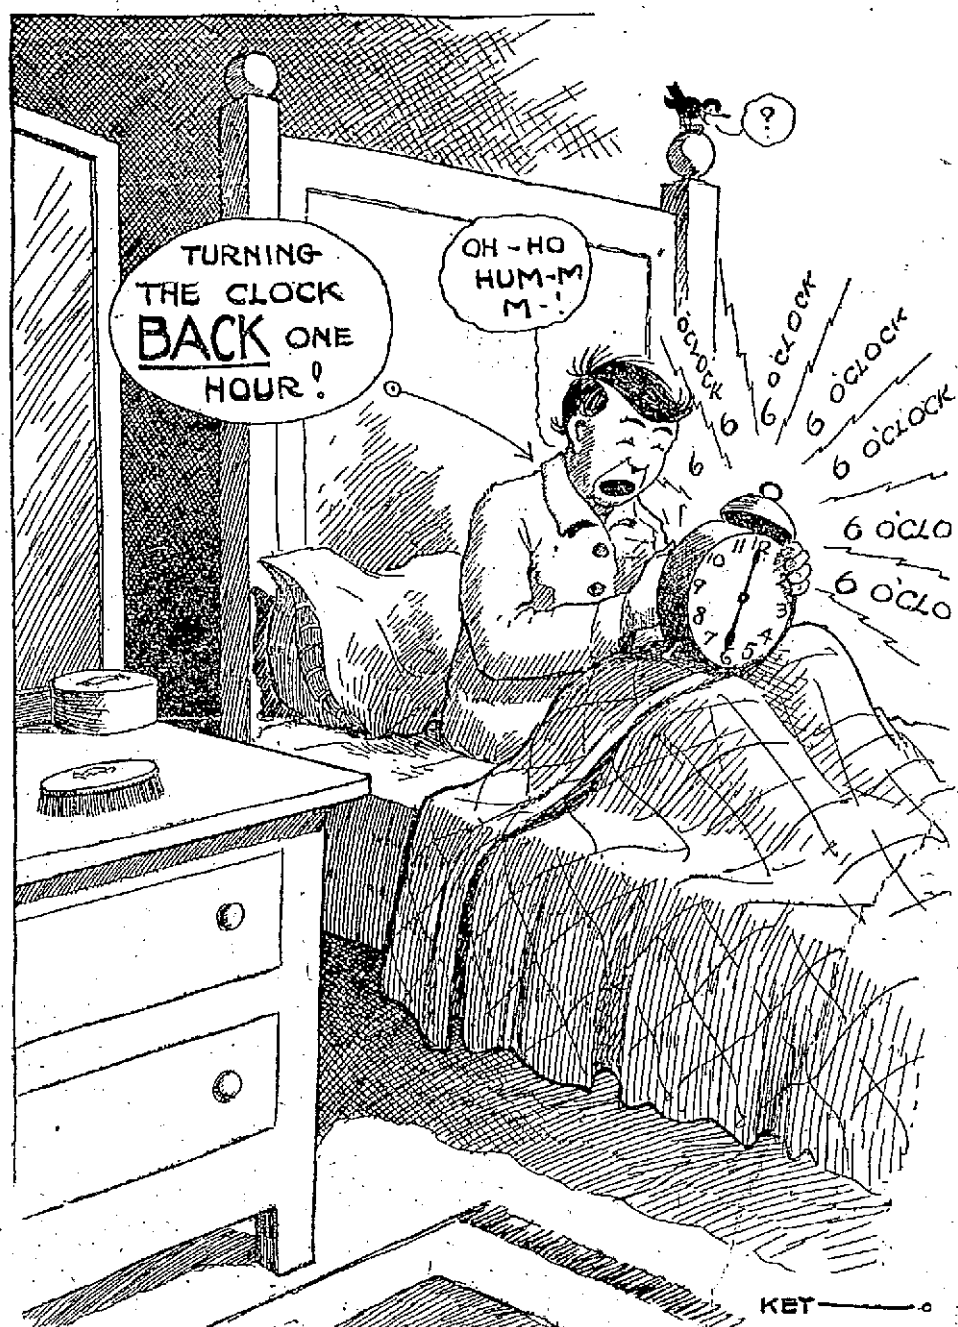

Patriotism, like religion, is a matter of service, of lifting others by lifting ourselves. The flamboyant and boastful sentiment of the day called patriotism is fraud, swind, suited to lowbrows, spelmens and great ones. We hear of it on all sides from men who presume and brag. The haughty kind of patriotism that struts about with chin on the shoulder and daring anybody to knock it off, is no more patriotism than wagon or grand larceny is, and yet much of the current patriotism is of that sort. One can hear quantities of it on the street corners and in political speeches. It is worse than counterfeit money when it is not pure and unselfish. Much of the patriotism these days is so vile that it makes the gutters smell.

Patriotism is love of country, love of one's fellow men, love of honesty, of purity, of decency, of courage, of fairness, and he whose patriotism does not include these is no patriot and he should go away back and sit down, when public issues are up. In the nature of things, a grabber, a jingo, or a spelman cannot be a patriot.—Ohio State Journal.

NO CRITERION.

That the late Chief Justice Fuller spoke of Mr. Brandeis "as the ablest man who ever appeared before" his court—granted that he did so speak—is quite beside the point. WHY JAPAN OBJECTS TO BURNETT BILL

The first detailed official explanation of the objection of the Japanese government to the Burnett Immigration bill, so far as we are informed, is that formulated by J. Sakata, chief of the Bureau of Commercial Affairs of the foreign department of the Tokyo government. This statement, according to a translation furnished the New York Times by the editor of the Japanese-American Commercial Weekly, is as follows:

The Burnett Immigration bill, in some minor revisions, of practically the same nature as the one that came up during the last session of Congress. The bill contains the following four points which importantly affect our country:

(1) That the following classes of aliens shall be excluded from admission into the United States: . . . Hindus and persons who cannot become eligible, under existing law, to become citizens of the United States by naturalization, unless otherwise provided for by existing agreements as to passports, or by existing treaties, conventions, etc. . . .

This provision is an attempt to establish a fundamental principle, with a proviso to the effect that those aliens otherwise provided for by special agreements, treaties, or conventions are to be exempted from general exclusion. Under this provision Japanese may enter into the United States by virtue of the existing commercial treaty and the special agreement as to passports with that country, despite the fact that Japanese are not, according to the decision of the United States Supreme Court, eligible to become citizens by naturalization and therefore fall into that class of aliens who are to be excluded. But, as the fundamental principle this exclusion clause aims at setting forth is to bar out aliens who are not accorded the right to naturalization, we cannot refrain from being displeased.

(2) That the following classes of persons shall be exempt from the operation of the literacy test, to-wit: . . . All aliens who have been lawfully admitted to the United States and who have resided therein continuously for five years, and who have in accordance with the law declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States, etc. . . .

In the literacy test freedom is granted to each alien to designate the language or dialect in which he may desire the examination to be made. A Japanese will be permitted to take up the examination in the Japanese language.

So far we have no objection to such test. President Wilson vetoed the Burnett Immigration bill last year after its passage through both houses, the main reason being that educational test was not the right method of securing a laborer of the best quality and character. The enactment of such requirement may prove a serious stumbling block to Italians, Portuguese and Russians, but no effect to speak of to Japanese. The only exception we are compelled to take to the proviso which exempts from this requirement those aliens who have in accordance with the law declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States. Inasmuch as Japanese are denied the right of naturalization, and therefore cannot be expected to declare their intention of becoming citizens, we are constrained to take that proviso as granting European people a specially favorable exemption and a discriminatory treatment against our people.

(3) That aliens who have declared their intention to become citizens and aliens returning after a temporary absence to an unrelinquished United States domicile of seven consecutive years may be admitted in the discretion of the Secretary of Labor. . . .

The first clause of this provision is also, we construe, discrimination against Japanese.

(4) Whenever an alien . . . shall have filed his declaration of intention to become a citizen, "and thereafter shall send for his wife or minor children to join him, and said wife and any of said minor children shall be found to be affected with any contagious disorder, such wife or minor children shall be held, . . . shall not be either admitted or deported, . . . and if it shall be determined that they can be admitted to land without danger to other persons, they may . . . thereupon be admitted. This provision also accords European immigration a very favorable treatment whereas those Japanese who are affected with a contagious disorder are positively forbidden to land on the ground that they are ineligible to become citizens.

All these four provisions constitute, in our interpretation, a discrimination against Japanese, and the Imperial government has called the attention of the United States government to the matter. On the eve of the passage of the Burnett bill by the House the following additional provision affecting Japanese was included:

That whenever . . . he may deem such action necessary, the secretary of Labor may . . . detail immigrant inspectors or matrons of the United States for duty on vessels carrying immigrant or emigrant passengers . . . between ports of the United States and foreign ports. Our government has brought the additional provision also to the notice of the Washington government.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Alameda County Political Equality Society held an executive session yesterday and decided to have Mrs. Alice Stocker president of the County Society preside at the Educational Suffrage convention which will be held here June 12 and 13.

Rev. E. R. Dille, who has just returned from the Hawaiian Islands, lectured yesterday on the islands illustrating his talk by sixty-five views of that country.

Miss Irene Forde of Berkeley is visiting Mrs. Maud Burham at Volcan.

Mrs. F. F. Stoddard has returned from Henshaw, where she has been visiting for the month past.

Superior Judge A. L. Frick held court yesterday for the first time since he returned from his wedding trip.

TWELFTH IN AERONAUTICS.

On May 1 the House Committee on Naval Affairs refused by a vote of 9 to 10 to increase the appropriation for naval aeronautics from $2,000,000, the sum asked for by Secretary Daniels, to $5,000,000 or $7,000,000, which represents the minimum sum recommended by the Navy experts. No excuse is given for this action. The committee declines to assume any responsibility, and states that it is "giving all that the administration has asked for." With only $2,000,000 the U. S. Navy, our first line of defense, is scheduled, from the standpoint of aeronautics, to rank twelfth, that is, behind England, Germany, France, Russia, Austria, Italy, Turkey, Bulgaria, Spain, Portugal and the Netherlands.—Aerial Age Weekly.

THEATER IS BARRED TO METHODISTS

Conference Keeps Cards and Dance Under Church Ban

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., May 25.—The Methodist general conference refused today by a vote of 435 to 286 to remove from the discipline of the church the clause which provides the penalty of excommunication for church members who play cards, dance and attend the theater.

More stringent regulations regarding the re-marriage by Methodist ministers of divorced persons are provided in a report submitted by the committee on the state of the church. The church has never recognized any cause for divorce except adultery and has always forbidden re-marriage in any case where a divorced wife or husband is living. By the proposed change a minister who performs such a marriage is guilty of maladministration and is to be held answerable to his conference.

The total abstinence by Methodist church members from the use of tobacco is urged in another report.

Polygamy and the social evil are condemned by the committee on temperance and public morals. The enforcement of laws prohibiting the former is urged.

Regarding the social evil, the committee asserts that neither segregation nor punishment by fines is a remedy. The committee should officially expel and disperse vice, it continues and the state should provide industrial settlements for the mentally deficient and an honest place in society for those mentally capable.

TO SURVEY SEMINARIES.
ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 25.—The Presbyterian General Assembly in session here today adopted a recommendation that theological seminaries affiliated with the church be investigated by a committee of seven as to their relationship to the church and the assembly with a view of making the relationship more secure, uniform and mutually helpful.

The assembly at Rochester, N. Y., last year rescinded the "contract of 1870" whereby the assembly was given authority in ratifying faculties in all Presbyterian seminaries. This year an overture was presented requesting that the Rochester action be reversed and the 1870 compact resumed. The overture, it was said, was aimed at Auburn and Union seminaries and the adoption of the recommendation avoids a contest with regard to these institutions.

The committee on bills and overtures in reporting on the subject today made a recommendation saying:
"We recommend that a special committee of seven, four elders and three ministers be appointed by the moderator to take under consideration the questions that have been aired as to the action of the general assembly of 1870 regarding this compact of 1870, especially as to the leaving of this action upon the legal status of all our seminaries and also to investigate the whole subject of the relationship of these seminaries to the church."

Dr. Waldo C. Cherry of Rochester, N. Y., made a report on foreign mission boards showing that out of each dollar given in the United States for foreign missions, 93 cents reaches the natives for whom it was intended.

A special plea was made for the evangelization of Mexico.

U.S. TO CALL CONVICTED LAND MEN OF SCHOOLS

To Take Stand Against 6 Defendants in New Cases

Workings of Alleged Scheme Told by Witness

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—That the government intends to call as witnesses against the six defendants now fighting for their liberty, the men convicted in Oregon and sentenced to penitentiary terms was indicated during the trial of the Oregon land fraud cases today.

Attorney A. P. Black, a member of the counsel for the defense, called Judge Doelling whether it might be stipulated that certain men had been sent to prison in Oregon for similar offenses. Its purpose was evidently to bar their appearance in court, but United States Attorney Clarence L. Dennis immediately agreed to the stipulation and added that the men would be available as witnesses, as they had been pardoned and restored to citizenship following their release from state prison.

SCHEME DISCLOSED.

The inner workings of the alleged scheme to defraud was disclosed in the testimony of George M. Michaels, of Gardena, a suburb of Los Angeles, who was the first witness. Michaels is an orchardist and claims to have met A. J. Weeks and Sydney Sperry, two of the defendants, in Los Angeles and to have paid them $150 as a filing fee on 160 acres of land in Jackson county, Oregon. He claims that he was told there was $3000 worth of timber on the land, but that Weeks and Sperry retained an option on the timber. Michaels added that he had no intention of being an actual settler on the land.

COAST LAND GRANT PASSED.
WASHINGTON, May 25.—The Oregon and California land grant bill, designed to restore to the Federal government about 2,200,000 acres of land valued at about $30,000,000 passed the House today by a vote of 158 to 6. It now goes to the Senate.

An amendment adopted in committee of the whole to increase the share of various counties in the proceeds from the sale of the land was defeated 167 to 158 on a roll-call.

TO STRAIGHTEN OUT TANGLE.
The bill was introduced to straighten out a long legal fight between the government and the California and Oregon Railroad Company over a land grant made more than a half century ago.

The government averred the company had failed to carry out the terms of this agreement, regarding the disposition of the land to settlers.

Having received the land, the government would be obligated by the bill to dispose of it and return $2.50 an acre to the railroad and divide the remainder of the proceeds between counties, the two states, the general reclamation fund and the national treasury.

A fight on the measure was made by Oregon representatives who desired that their state share more generously in the proceeds.

FRICK CALLS FOR SURVEY OF SCHOOLS

County Superintendent to Have Gathering of Trustees

Teachers' Institute Will Meet in Hayward Saturday

Considering the needs of rural schools, the most important educational theme of the day and that these may best be promoted by an exchange of views among the school trustees of the different districts, County Superintendent of Schools George W. Frick has called a School Trustees' Institute to be held in Hayward all day Saturday.

Beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning in the Hayward Union High School, the institute session will last until well on in the evening. The institute consists of trustees from all school districts all over Alameda county, ranging from the little ungraded school away over the hills on the edge of the San Joaquin plains, to the large graded schools of Hayward, San Leandro, Niles and other county centers.

The school trustees' convolve is an innovation in Alameda county and is the first held in this end of the State. Its object is to give the trustees an opportunity to meet each other and to talk over their problems and especially rural school problems and also to get together socially.

Speakers at the institute will include Professor Charles Lugh, of the Educational Department of the University of California, W. Hatch of the Extension Department of the University and Miss Mary Barnaby, county librarian. Among the subjects to be considered will be the use of visualization in education, including exhibits and moving pictures, consolidation of school districts, sanitation, school attendance, the relation between trustees, principals and teachers and the superintendent, school revenues, night schools and home teachers for immigrants.

Part of the afternoon session will be devoted to a general discussion among the trustees, who will be invited to ask questions and consider problems in a free and conversational way. The trustees will have luncheon together at the Hayward Hotel.

MUSIC.
A musical program will be sustained by Roland Rodrick and R. Schaeffer, vocalists, and by the band and orchestra of the San Leandro grammar school.

"The object of the school trustees' institute is to disseminate progressive educational thought and ideas all over the county and especially in the remote districts," declared Superintendent Frick in discussing the institute, which is his idea.

"Outlying school areas there are fewer opportunities for such enlightenment than in central school districts and it is these smaller schools which will perhaps benefit most."

BURNS BROUGHT IN WIRE-TAPPING CASE

Fresh Criminal and Civil Action Promised in New York Case.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Fresh legal proceedings, both criminal and civil, were promised today as the outcome of the wire tapping investigations. District Attorney Swann said that Frederick Seymour, an attorney, had consented to sign a complaint which would enable the public prosecutor to ask the grand jury for indictments against William J. Burns, the detective, for unlawfully entering Seymour's office.

Mayor Mitchell threatened criminal action against prominent Catholic clergymen, whom he accuses of conspiring to prevent justice and interfere with the state investigation of Catholic charitable institutions. One of the men accused by the mayor, the Rev. William E. Farrell, said he intended to sue the mayor for defamation of character.

It is charged that Burns was employed to find out how tips about war munitions contracts had leaked from the office of J. P. Morgan & Co. Today the district attorney sought to ascertain whether Burns employed knew of methods he used to obtain information and counteracted them. Burns is on his way to New York from Los Angeles.

TWO SAVED FROM ROANOKE TO SUE

Elb and Lopez File Claims for Damages to Health and Feelings.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—J. P. Elb, quartermaster, and Manuel Lopez, officer on the steamer Roanoke, filed claims for damages in the Federal Court today as the result of their experience in the wrecking of the vessel on May 9. For damage to their feelings and their health due to exposure in twenty-six hours in open boat, they each ask $2500. Elb wants $1250 additional for loss of personal effects and Lopez, $350 to cover the same purpose.

The defendants are the California South Sea Navigation Company, who chartered the vessel, and the North Pacific Steamship Company, the owners thereof.

Lopez and Elb charge that the Roanoke was unseaworthy, grossly overloaded and cargo improperly stowed.

United States inspectors Guthrie and Dolan have no complaint of their investigation into the wreck and intend to examine several more witnesses before making their report to Washington.

Honeymooners to Get Hot Welcome

Dream of Quiet Return Will Be Shattered

If George Janssen, president of the Melrose Business Men's Association, and his bride intend to slip quietly into their new home from their honeymoon this evening and settle down before inviting callers, their plans will be sadly shattered.

Fourth of July decorations pale before the embellishments which friends of the couple have lavished on the newlyweds' home. Huge posters bearing congratulations in large type and gay bunting almost hide the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Janssen, who are among the popular residents of this community, were married a week ago and are expected home from their honeymoon tonight.

Seventeen Injured in Movie Motor Smash

LOS ANGELES, May 25.—Seventeen persons were injured last night when a motor truck carrying a motion picture company turned over on a county road at Chatsworth, near here. Thirty men and women were on the truck which skidded off the road into a ditch.

Mrs. Iringard Schoonmaker, an actress, was believed to have been most seriously injured. She suffered severe bruises about the head and body and possible internal injuries. Several other women were among those brought to local hospitals.

Mrs. Vera Glenn French Sues for Back Alimony

Claims His Uncle Aided in Evading Order of Court

SAN FRANCISCO, May 25.—Hoping to collect the alimony which was awarded her in 1913, but of which she claims to be deprived by reason of juggling on the part of her former husband, Mrs. Vera French filed a suit today against Hugh Glenn French, his uncle Charles H. Glenn, his mother Mrs. Ella Glenn Leonard and the Mercantile Trust Company. The Glenns are planners in the suit and it was for their family that Glenn county was named.

When Mrs. French was given her final decree she was awarded $100 a month but declares she has been unable to collect a penny of it. She claims in 1909 Mrs. Leonard placed $30,000 with the Mercantile Trust Company in order that her husband might enjoy the income thereof. She alleges that he is in the habit of assigning the income to his uncle who in turn gives him a check for the dividend and in consequence Mrs. French is unable to collect her stipend.

SIMPLE APPLICATION THAT DISSOLVES BLACKHEADS

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes, blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of powdered norexin from your druggist—
sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge —rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you can not get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of powdered norexin and water dissolves every particle of them and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Advertisement will sell you the powdered norexin and about two ounces will be all you will ever need.

Blue Bird Bureau

Would you believe it, but we know of an old lady who is actually 100 years old and very much alive, although she is suffering badly from asthma. She is all alone in this world, has no children living, and she is very much in need of assistance.

She does not have enough food to eat,
nor the proper kind for an old woman her age. She also needs clothing, and from all that we can learn, she is very depressed.

In our estimation, anyone who lives to be 100 years old is worthy of assistance in any form. Should you care to call on her and see what you can do for her,
we will gladly tell you how to get there.
Perhaps just a visit will do her lots of good, for she has not been away from her home at all for over a year, and a visit will at least help to cheer her up, and make her realize in the fact that she has lived to see a century come and go.

Who can put us in touch with some ranchman who wants a good, strong boy of about 17 years as a helping hand on a ranch? There is a young lad of about that age here in Oakland who is homeless and without friends, and needs such a place. He feels that there is nothing here in town for a boy such as he, and he would just as soon go to a farm where he could work for his board and a small salary. He is sure that he would be able to make good. City life to a boy of his age, and one without a home or friends to guide him in the right path, is not the best thing in the world. There are a great many temptations in a city surrounding a boy without a home or parents, and the sooner he gets away from it all, the better it will be for the boy,
and the whole world in general.

This boy we feel confident will make good if given the opportunity, and we will surely appreciate anything that can be done in assisting him to get work on a ranch.

CAR NO HEARSE OWNER DECLARES

Quick Trip With Sick Friend
Results in Speedy Arrest.

CHICAGO, May 25.—The sun shone benignly for most of us yesterday, but for Edwin Albrecht, his rays were clouded with a neutral tinted fog of trouble. For the first time in his experience he found himself in court, the victim of his uncompromising philosophy and a shiny
new touring car.

Albrecht lives at 135 Laurel avenue.
The other day he appeared with a friend
on a thoroughfare near his home, driving the new machine. The car was hitting only the high spots. Perturbed policemen waving their arms semaphore fashion, flashed by like telegraph poles past the Twentieth Century Limited.

Albrecht ran the gauntlet of the dazed coppers in safety, but when he reached the end of his journey he was pinched.
"How about it?" asked Judge Sullivan
when Edwin's case was called in the Automobile court.

"Judge, your honor," he said, "it was like this. A guy I know wants a ride.
When he gets in the car he says he has appendicitis and would I take him home?
He thinks maybe he's going to croak."

"So there I am, Judge, your honor, all dolled up with a new buzz wagon, and this feller wants to turn it into a hearse.
He's a nice feller, all right, none better,
and if he's got the right idea, what's more power to him, but I ask you, Judge."

EMBARGO UPON CALFSKIN URGED

Only Solution of Problem of Factories, Declares
John S. Kent.

NEW YORK, May 25.—Adoption by the United States Government of an embargo upon the exportation of leather made from any raw material as scarce at calf-skins was urged in a report by President John S. Kent, adopted at a meeting here yesterday of the executive committee of the National Horne and Shoe Manufacturers' Association. An alternative suggestion was a reciprocal arrangement providing for an exchange of the furnished product for the raw material.

Mr. Kent explained that under normal conditions before the war began the United States produced only approximately 50 per cent of the raw material necessary to meet the domestic demands for finished calf leather. The reminder was imported from Russia, Germany, Austria, France, Italy and Scandinavia. The war has shut off access to these markets while the demand for finished leather has increased tremendously all over the world.

With the supply of raw materials cut off and domestic output insufficient to meet the home demand, Mr. Kent said, foreign countries have turned to the United States for their supplies of furnished material. Under the circumstances, he argued, it would be no more than fair for the nation at war to permit the exportation to us of raw materials. For this reason he proposed an embargo as the only solution of the problem confronting manufacturers who are paying prices which "have reached altitudes never dreamed possible."

Start Tomorrow and Keep It Up Every Morning

Get in the habit of drinking a glass of hot water before breakfast.

We're not here long, so let's make our stay agreeable. Let us live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, and look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet, how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning routine.

Folks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, acid stomach, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy by opening the sluices of the system with morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver and bowels the poisonous, indigestible waste, sour bile and poisonous toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and limestone phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleans out all the sour fermentations, gases, waste and acidity and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. While you are enjoying your breakfast the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs.

The millions of people who are bothered with constipation, bilious spells, stomach trouble; others who have hollow skins, blood disorders and sickly complexions are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store. This will cost very little, but is sufficient to make anyone a pronounced crank on the subject of internal bathing before breakfast.—Advertisement.

RICHMOND, May 23.—The victim which police departments all over the country have been keeping since the shooting down of Police Sergeant Jennings last night, is now being fought with the extradition of "Commodore" Turner, colored bandit, suspected of the crime, in El Paso, Texas.

Oil Land Case Is Put to President

WASHINGTON, May 23.—Senators Phelan, Myers, Pittman, members of the Public Lands Committee, and Senator Walsh conferred with President Wilson today over the opposition of the Navy Department to legislation pending in Congress for the relief of oil operators in California. The territory involved is in Imperial, Riverside, San Diego and San Bernardino counties. Secretary Daniels believes the proposed legislation would interfere with the oil supply of the navy, and sought the President's aid against the bill.

The senators told the President that the proposed legislation was only an act of justice on the part of the government and that there was no ground for the belief that the navy would suffer. It was stated that the government owned enough oil land not effected by the legislation to last the navy at its present rate of consumption 1100 years.

Bond Fails, Woman Must Stay in Cell

Unless Mrs. Evelyn Reid Von Dohlen is able to raise a bond of $2000 she may have to stay in jail for ten years or until the case is raised. BOY RAIDER TELLS OF DANGEROUS LIFE

Hunger Leads Youth to Join Villista Outlaws in Depredations.

MARATHON, Tex., May 23.—Lieutenant Alvarado Alvarez, leader of one of the bandit bands that raided Aquilino and Manuel Torres, another of the raiders, were brought here early today and were taken to the county jail. They were taken to be taken to Alamo for trial before the civil authorities. The prisoners were heavily manacled with chains.

Alvarez, a very ordinary looking person, refused to talk, and stated that he had played a part in the sacking of Delmer's store. His companion Torres, a boyish appearing figure, when asked why he had invaded American territory to rob and kill, said:

"Six months ago I was living at Sacramento, in the State of Durango, working on a little farm belonging to my parents. One day a number of armed men came and took away everything we had stored to them until the next morning. They even took our wearing apparel. Later on another band appeared, only to find that we had nothing left. The colonel, an elderly man, looked at me and said: 'You are a good soldier. I told him that I did not want to join the army. He looked at me again and finally he said: 'You have no shoes; your feet are sore; your trousers are rent and torn; you have no coat; it is cold and you say that you are a good soldier with me and I will feed and clothe you.'"

"I joined him and for a time we had plenty to eat and wear, but times became hard again and our chief decided to strike across the Rio Grande into the Mexican side, where he said food and forage were more in abundance.

"After many days of riding we reached the river opposite Boquilla and camped. Some of the men suggested that I should be made across the river and I was agreed on.

"The raid was carried out, but I did not participate in it. I was one of ten left on the Mexican side to guard the interior and I was caught by your American troops."

Local Markets Contain Plentiful Supply of Everything New and Desirable.

The cool weather is having something of a deterrent effect on the market, but generally, business is better than this time of year.

Nearly all the new produce is cheapening daily with arrivals better to quality. There is a good supply now of nearly everything that might be expected in the market, and fruit especially. Canebrake and cantaloupes are coming more freely, with prices lowering. They are now selling around $1.00 a bushel. Strawberries were in lighter demand today, and as stocks were heavy prices were weak at $1.00 a bushel, the latter price being about the lowest for some time. The price for the finer stock with a few choice ones was about $1.50.

There were not much potatoes, and what there was in the market was in small quantities. There was found a market with prices, and what there were plenty of leucoberies at 25 cents a bushel. Apples were in fair demand, prices were weak in price around 40 cents.

There was some new corn in the market, but it was not much. It was quoted at 25 cents a dozen, but was not in sufficient quantity to be a factor.

There was a fair demand for good quality southern varieties were held at $1.50 to $2 a crate.

There were few at all peach, bringing $3.50 a sack, and firm at that price. Green onions are also a scarce article and sell at $1.25 a bushel.

There was a fair demand for plantain and banana, at 50 to 60 cents a box.

Poultry is showing a tendency toward cheaper prices. Small hens were a cent a pound cheaper this morning on heavy arrivals.

NATIONAL SESSION OF PEACE LEAGUE

Organization Urging a World Court of Arbitration Meets.

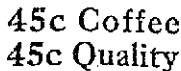

WASHINGTON, May 25.—"We are not mollified," delegates to the first annual convention of the National League to Enforce Peace didn't say that in so many words, but they gathered here today for the opening sessions under the leadership of the league's first former President William Howard Taft, but that was the idea they wanted.

"We believe," said Herbert S. Houston, president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World and a prominent member of the league, "is a business proposition. The international peace movement is a business proposition that is being organized and pushed through by men with red blood in their veins and with anything else that is worth having."

"Permanent peace means a great deal to the business interest of the world and they are behind this organization of heart, soul and body."

If you had remembered

If you had remembered to take along a kodak on every vacation or weekend trip that you ever made and were diligent in taking snap shots, and took the care to preserve them in albums of uniform size, what would be the value of the collection to you today? It is never too late to start to work upon a good idea, and if you will get a kodak right now, and make a business of taking it with you wherever you go, and photograph all of the interesting features in connection with your trips, and will preserve the prints as suggested above, you will have a valuable collection in a few years. We carry a kinder, gentler Kodak Brownie cameras at $1.00 each up to the most elaborate models. We also carry all sorts of photographic supplies, and, as you probably know, make a specialty of developing and printing films for amateur photographers. If you are going on a trip, we will be glad to supply

It is always a pleasure

It is always a pleasure to call attention to an article the sale of which we are sure brings to us future patronage. This is the case with Benzoin Cream, a most excellent preventive for sunburn and a cure for chapped hands and wind-chafed skin. If used upon the face before taking a trip in the open air it will prevent the usual discomfort caused by the wind and do much toward the protection of your complexion. This is a most opportune time to lay in a stock of Benzoin Cream, and no one should go upon a summer outing without having a good supply of it.

The success of a

The success of a vacation is largely dependent upon the program of parenthood planned and carried out before leaving home. Almost invariably something is forgotten, and comfort is forgotten. It can be largely avoided by checking up your requirements before you leave and with this idea in view we have printed a list of things usually required and will send you one if any one is asked who needs it. This list will be ready Monday or Tuesday.

Among the things overlooked

Poison Ointment. I have a poison ointment which I believe to be the best remedy of the kind on the market. It has been selling for a number of years, and my friends have met with a success in its use as a preventive and a cure. Of course, no one can guarantee its use for Poison Ointment. This lotion is just as successful as any other I have brought to our attention. It is greaseless, odorless and does not stain. It is used for sunburn, chafe, and various hot sores, and it is also a good solvent and healer of the
